BULLETIN
Leonard Edward Laws, 41, furniture salesman of Vista, San Diego county, reported by Constable William Combs of San Juan township as greatly resembling a man wanted for questioning regarding the slaying of Ruth Muir, Y. W. C. A. secretary, in La Jolla Tuesday night, was in the county jail today on a charge of being drunk on a county highway.
Laws was jailed by Officer Combs. He said he was a former army man, now divorced, and was trying to obtain medical attention at Sawtelle hospital. Laws is tall, slender, and has curly hair, Combs reported. He said he was born in Tennessee.
Laws will be questioned regarding his whereabouts Tuesday night.

POMONA, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Prof. J. D. Lauder milk, denied today he identified hairs clutched in the hands of Ruth Muir, sex-murder victim, as those of a woman.
Professor Lauder milk said he required assurance of the sex would require measurements of at least 25 specimens "and even then I wouldn't be too sure."
He said the length of the few strands brought here from La Jolla, where Miss Muir's battered

REMOVE BODIES OF TWO MINERS

LOGAN, W. V., Sept. 3.—(UP)—The burned bodies of two more miners were brought out of the McBeth coal mine today and rescue workers said there was no hope that six other men trapped by an explosion yesterday were alive.
The bodies recovered today were those of Grover Saunders, 28, and Bill Reiter, 40.
The rescue workers had been working in shifts since yesterday afternoon when a terrific explosion closed up a tunnel, trapping the eight men, killing two, and sending 110 running in panic to shaft cars that hauled them safely to the surface.
Several times during the night, in the sweltering tunnel far below the surface, slides of dirt loosened by the explosion impeded the digging. Once a major collapse all but caught some of the diggers. Mine officials and officials of the state department of mines believed there was only the slightest chance that any of the eight were alive. They expected to reach bodies by mid-morning.

U. S. TREASURY TO BORROW MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—In a surprise move, Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., announced today that the treasury will borrow $400,000,000 in new cash in addition to refunding $514,000,000 in notes falling due Sept. 15.
Secretary Morgenthau said the new borrowing was the smallest cash offering since he came into office. He promised that the treasury's net borrowings would not exceed $750,000,000 for the entire fiscal year as outlined by President Roosevelt in his revised budget estimate yesterday.
Morgenthau said because of unsettled European conditions it would be unwise to dip into the treasury's working balance of about $1,000,000,000 to meet present financing needs.

DOG GUARDS MASTER IN HOSPITAL WARD

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(UP)—A white spitz dog, friendly but determined, sat on one pillow of his master's bed in the Georgia street receiving hospital today.
The dog's master, O. R. Russell, 61, a Spanish-American war veteran, fainted on a downtown sidewalk yesterday. The dog stood guard over his body until an ambulance came. The spitz dog made no objection as Russell was loaded aboard, but leaped inside just before the doors clanged shut.
At the hospital, he trotted beside the stretcher into the operating room and stood by while Russell's cuts and bruises were treated. Then he went along to the ward and sat, alert, on the bed where Russell lay unconscious.
Kind-hearted hospital attaches said the dog could stay until the master was well enough to leave.

Jesse Owens' Manager Balks Political Plan

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Jesse Owens' business manager reaffirmed today his intention to prohibit the Negro track star from "dabbling in politics."
Owens announced yesterday he was prepared to take the stump for Gov. Alf M. Landon. But Marty Forkins, Broadway theatrical agent who recently signed Owens' to a one-year contract to handle the athlete's business and personal affairs, declared the Olympic hero "would do no such thing."
"I absolutely won't allow him to stump for Governor Landon or anybody else or to take any part in politics," Forkins said. "I didn't even know about this statement he gave out. I wouldn't have allowed him to take any side in the political campaign if I had known about it. I don't think he's interested much one way or the other in politics."

"He told me that he voted the Republican ticket but beyond that he didn't pay much attention to politics. He's in the public hands now and can't be dabbling in political matters."

PLANES GIVEN FINAL TEST FOR NATIONAL AIR RACES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Planes darting like huge butterflies over Municipal Airport today sounded the final tuneup for the National Air Races which open tomorrow for a four-day stand.

Many of them were "mystery planes," so-called because of new type of designs and because they have not been tried under the grueling fire of competition. Plunging along at 250 or more miles an hour, they will supply most of the speed and thrills for the 250,000 persons expected to jam the port during aviation's greatest show of the year.

Nearly 100 flyers from the United States, Canada and Europe were attracted by the $70,000 prize money and trophies that are being offered to men and women pilots and parachute jumpers—the bulk of it going to those who can crowd the most speed out of engines built for speed alone.
Of the hundreds of visitors pouring into the city, nearly a score were official or unofficial observers of foreign governments, intent on watching at close range racing plane designs that might be incorporated in squadrons of high speed combat planes.
A check showed that at least 15 foreign governments will have experts at the races. They include England, France, Germany, Roumania, China, Japan and virtually every Central and South American country. They will see the fastest and most modern of U. S. army, navy and marine planes as well as those flown under civilian ownership.

POISON IS FATAL TO NAVY OFFICER

VALLEJO, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Lieut. Wiley N. Hand, naval officer who disappeared from Long Beach a month ago died in Mare Island Navy Yard hospital last night after taking poison, it was announced today.
Hand was located here yesterday, questioned by officers of the 12th naval district, and was taken to Mare Island for return to his ship, the U. S. S. Maryland, for a hearing and possible court martial as a deserter.

The medical report said he took a large quantity of poison while on a ferry boat being taken to Mare Island.
He was rushed to the Navy Yard hospital, where he died at 10:15 p. m.

START COUNTY SAFETY DRIVE

FIRST official action to stamp out the deadly habit of boulevard "jumping" by motorists operating over Orange county highways will be taken tomorrow when Acting Capt. W. W. Mayer of the California Highway Patrol here makes the rounds of the 11 Orange county justice courts for brief conferences with justices of the peace.

Acting Captain Mayer will solicit the cooperation of all of the judges and will ask them to make the penalty for violation of the boulevard-stop law "much more severe."
While the penalty now is usually a $1 or $2 fine, Officer Mayer will ask that it be raised to $10 to $20, with the possibility that those violations resulting in damages to cars or injuries to persons be punished under the "reckless driving" section of the vehicle code.

Causes Eight Deaths
The action is being taken following a check-up which shows eight persons have been killed in Orange county during the last 60 days as the direct result of boulevard-stop jumping, according to records on file.

ARRAIGN FOUR FOR SHIPBOARD SLAYING

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Four men indicted in connection with the shipboard slaying of George Alberts last March were arraigned today on first degree murder charges before Superior Judge E. C. Tyrell.

Immediately after the arraignment Judge Tyrell granted a temporary postponement at the request of Henry C. Levenski, attorney retained by the Seattle district of the Marine Firemen to represent Frank J. Conner and Earl King, two of the accused men. Stating he had arrived from Seattle by plane last night, he asked time to consult with his clients.
Arraigned with Conner and King were E. H. Ramsey and George Wallace. King and Ramsey are accused by District Attorney Earl Warren, of Alameda county, of conspiring to kill Alberts because of his opposition to "radical" union tendencies.

MILLS REPUDIATES NEW DEAL ESTIMATE

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The federal government's deficit for 1937 should be estimated at $3,265,996,300, and not at $2,959,000 as the White House announced, former Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills said today through Republican national headquarters.
Mills said his estimate was based on the assumption that the proceeds of recoverable assets are to be devoted to debt reductions "as indicated by the president." The administration estimates are "seriously misleading," he declared.

BAN POLITICS FROM PARLEY ON DROUGHT

Governors of Six Mid-West States Confer With FDR at Des Moines, Iowa

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 3.—(UP)—President Roosevelt and Gov. Alf M. Landon clasped hands in the state capitol here today as they filed into the private dining room to be guests of Gov. Clyde L. Herring for luncheon.
"I understand, Governor, that you had a hard motor ride in order to get here," Mr. Roosevelt observed.
Landon said he did, smiling broadly.
Mr. Roosevelt then presented Landon to his son, John, who has been accompanying his father on the drought tour. The nation's chief executive was presented to the Kansas governor along with those of Oklahoma, Missouri and Nebraska, who will join later in a discussion of drought problems.

Landon was first to speak to Mr. Roosevelt as the governors and congressional representatives started for the luncheon room.
There was no seating arrangement for the tables, but the six governors and Judge Charles Dewey sat at one. They merely pulled up chairs and sat down, Landon taking a seat two removed from the president.
The luncheon got started shortly before 1:30 p. m.
The president and the governor of Kansas and the chief executives of six other mid-western states motored shortly after noon along the flag-festooned and crowded streets of the Iowa state

OFFER REWARD FOR MURDERERS

YREKA, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Rewards totaling $1000 were posted today by the Siskiyou county board of supervisors for the apprehension of John and Court Britte, accused of slaying three men.

Sheriff W. G. Chandler telegraphed Gov. Frank F. Merriam asking that the state offer an equal amount. The county reward offer was $500 for the capture of each brother.
Organized search for the Britte brothers apparently had been abandoned today. Deputies maintained patrols at strategic points, but no manhunt was underway.

PRETTY CORONADO GIRL DISAPPEARS

CORONADO, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)—A second beach colony mystery confronted police today in the disappearance of pretty Virginia Lawson, 18-year-old brunette high school girl who vanished within a few hours of the attack-slaying of Ruth Muir at La Jolla.
Reports Miss Lawson had eloped to Yuma proved false. A telephoned message to her mother last night said to be from "a friend" said Virginia had gone to Yuma, but no trace of her was found there.
Miss Lawson last was seen at 5 p. m. Monday when she told her mother she was going to San Diego, across the bay, to visit friends. She did not arrive.

HOLD PAIR FOR HYNES MURDER

TWO HYNES MEN, Carthal Woodrow Neill, 23, oil station operator, and Edward Hutchinson, 38, truck driver, were in Los Angeles county jail today, charged with the murder of Pedro Rojas, 19, 601 Adams street, Delhi, following his death Tuesday evening at Orange county hospital from a skull fracture received near a Hynes dance hall Sunday night.

Rojas' companion, John Martinez, 21, of 549 1-2 North Lemon street, Orange, who went with Rojas and Joe Campos, 124 Delhi road, Delhi, to a dance in Hynes Sunday night, said both Rojas and he were struck over the head with an iron bar or wrench when they went to a service station rest room opposite the dance hall. Martinez identified the arrested men as those who attacked him and Rojas.

Hutchinson, according to Los Angeles Deputy Sheriff Charles Catlin, A. Mendoza and John Morrell who arrested him and Neill, confessed he struck the blows. He confirmed Martinez' story that Martinez and Rojas went to the service station and asked for the key to the rest room but it was not given to them. Hutchinson told the officers the two local Mexicans were

OFFICIALS GREET AIR RACE GROUP

Miss Ruth Elder, famous record-smashing aviatrix, with Miss Shirlee Hill, official hostess of the 1936 National Air Races, to be held in Los Angeles tomorrow, Saturday, Sunday and Labor day, appeared here this afternoon with air race officials, to invite all Santa Ana to attend the events.
Arriving at the city hall with a motorcycle escort, including local officers, the race caravan greeted Mayor Fred C. Rowland and other city officials and extended an official invitation which Mayor Rowland accepted in a short address over the portable loud speaker system.

Miss Elder and Miss Hill officially greeted Santa Annans and extended formal invitations to the mayor as Santa Ana's official representative. Miss Elder stated she would not enter the races or other events this year but would "have the pleasure" of sitting along the side lines as a spectator.
"Anaheim so tired now, I'm not sure whether I'll be able to get back to Los Angeles today," she said.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Bishop Michael J. Gallagher, of Detroit, ecclesiastic superior of Father Charles E. At the pier, a crowd of 5000 greeted the stars. After baggage inspection, the athletes were driven to the battery where they met their comrades who arrived last week. A parade up Broadway to Randall's Island followed. At Randall's Island, the athletes were guests of the city at a luncheon where commemorative medals were presented.

SHORTAGE OF GAS FORCES SHIP DOWN

Refueling Plane is Sent to Relief of Fliers in Welsh Territory

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—A refueling plane carrying 50 gallons of gasoline took off from Croydon airport at 5:22 p. m. to supply fuel for the Lady Peace at Llandilo, Wales.
Harry Richman told Croydon officials by telephone that he believed he could take off from the field at Llandilo, although it was very small.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The airplane Lady Peace, carrying Richard Merrill and Harry Richman on the season's first successful flight across the Atlantic, landed today in Wales.
The air ministry announced officially that the Lady Peace landed at Llandilo, Carmarthenshire, in western Wales.

Jimmy Town, Canadian pilot who is a friend of the fliers, said they ran out of gas and their radio broke down. They landed safely in a field, he said, and would continue to London after refueling.
Llandilo is well inland, just north of Black Mountain in southeastern Carmarthenshire.

The Lady Peace took off from Floyd Bennett airport in New York at 4:37 p. m. EDT, yesterday. It carried 1000 gallons of gasoline, which it was estimated would be sufficient to keep the 1000-horsepower Cyclone motor going for 22 hours.
Apparently, however, the fliers encountered heavy weather and the supply was drained prematurely.

Their actual landing place, the air ministry said, was on an estate named Llwyncelyn at Manordillo, near Llandilo.
The original route as planned was 3574 miles from London. Llandilo is about 175 miles from London.
Richman telephoned to the town from Llwyncelyn, saying he thought the flight took only about 15 hours.

"The voyage was pretty tough," Richman said, "and our radio would not work. A severe electric storm put the wireless out of commission so we were unable to use that and did not know our bearings."
"We started to wander about. We went to Ireland and then to Scotland, then down the Irish Sea and landed in Wales."

BANDIT ROB S DENIES WOMAN DONEY PARK LOST MURDERER CAFE OF $20

A lone Mexican bandit entered Marie's barbecue place on 101 highway in Doheny Park at 4:30 a. m. today and, with his finger on the trigger of a .45 caliber revolver, ordered Night Manager Julian Belasquez to give him the contents of the cash register. The bandit, Belasquez estimated when Deputy Sheriff A. W. Fullerton and Tom Murphree began their investigation today.

Belasquez described the man as looking part Mexican and part Indian. The description was as follows: About 35 or 40 years old, five feet five inches tall, dark complexion, dark hair combed straight back, high cheek bones, bareheaded and wearing big overalls and blue shirt.

Belasquez stated that after he handed the money from the cash register to the bandit, the latter walked behind the counter and looked into the money drawers to see if Belasquez had delivered all of the money to him. The bandit, Belasquez stated, disappeared, walking rapidly in the direction of Doheny Palisades.

was clearly enunciating a self-evident truth."

Not Vatican Opinion

"The statements in the Observator Romano," Bishop Gallagher said, "do not reflect the opinion of the Vatican, they are the reflection of the opinion of that paper."

"The question of Father Coughlin was mentioned neither officially nor unofficially in my talks with the Holy Father. I had called Father Coughlin's attention to the impropriety of calling President Roosevelt a liar before I left for Europe and he apologized. The matter was never discussed with any Vatican officials unless I brought it up."

"This whole matter is dragged up for discussion because it is a presidential election year. Otherwise it would not be heard. Anyone could see that the Holy See does not approve of Father Coughlin's calling the president a liar, whether he deserved it or not. There are certain parts of Europe where they never heard of Father Coughlin."

At this point, Father Coughlin leaned forward over the bishop's chair to interject:

"They were all newspaper stories to tell papers," bishop.

"It seems to me," continued the bishop, "that there must be big financial interests pushing this matter, trying to put Father Coughlin out. It's a newspaper hoax."

Coughlin Hits Press

"The press wants me to get off the air but they want the freedom of the press for themselves," put in Coughlin.

Father Coughlin then switched the subject.

"The bishop is just back from Europe," he said. "You gentlemen of the press might like to hear what he has to say about Spain."

Said Bishop Gallagher:

"The Communists are behind the trouble in Spain. It is Russian intrigue. In France there is open Communist sympathy. Munitions are moving into Spain across the French border all the time. The rebels are the patriots."

"They are like Washington," interrupted Father Coughlin.

"Even the American paper in France, the Herald, is Communistically inclined and backing up the Communists while the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail gives a fair picture," the bishop continued.

"I met many refugees from Spain in France. I was told that the Socialists got the big vote in the last election in Spain because the Communists staged riots and kept the women away from the polls. It was the men with human independence who got together to stop what was going on there. Russia is financing it and they are getting help from Mexico, too. If Spain goes Communist, there is danger of France and Belgium going Communist too. This will mean war for the liberty-loving nations."

Father Coughlin added:

"The money that France owes is being spent to finance the Communist revolution in Spain. Mexico admits now that she has sent arms and ammunition to Spain and a bunch of school teachers in Boston have sent $500."

Man Bound Over On Theft Count

Arrested after he assertedly stole a case of wine and some whiskey from a truck parked in front of Los Palermos cafe on West Fifth street August 31, Chris Gallardo, 26, of 1030 Logan street, today was held to answer to superior court on a charge of petty theft with prior conviction of a felony.

Judge Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana justice court held Gallardo to answer after testimony showed Gallardo was released from San Quentin three months ago after serving two years on a drunk driving conviction. He was arrested after Charles Denio, truck operator, and Pernia Alarcon, cafe manager, reported they saw him disappear down the street with the loot. Their attention was attracted to him when he dropped two bottles of wine, as he pulled the case from the truck, it was said.

two crushing blows. Little heed was paid to his statement at the time.

Detectives were attempting to trace a blood-stained rayon slip found in a garbage can near the beach. They said they held small belief it was connected with the case, but would investigate it thoroughly.

Seek Death Weapon

Search for the death weapon was to be continued today on the rocky ocean floor off the cove where Miss Muir was slain. Three police officers and a Tahitian diver worked for hours yesterday, diving from a rowboat, without success. A jagged, stained hunk of concrete found near the cove was discarded after close examination.

Two hundred persons at a "trailer camp" south of La Jolla were questioned briefly by officers last night in an attempt to trace suspects, but no information of value was received.

The hunt for a stocky, swarthy man with unusually large lips, beset with reports he had been seen at the beach an hour before Miss Muir was killed, was given renewed significance with information provided by an unidentified woman last night. She came into police headquarters, said she desired no publicity, and told detectives she had been trailed for two weeks by such a man. Officers said they would investigate her story.

The investigation turned toward Miss Muir's own home in Riverside, Cal., on the report a janitor there had threatened her after she refused him employment. Miss Muir had been visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Muir, at their beach cottage.

Two men still held by police who faced possible further questioning. One was Carl Lewis, laborer arrested at the California exposition for slapping a woman, and Earl Davis, Negro, sentenced to 90 days in jail for annoying a white girl.

Check Prints, Hair

His fingerprints were sent to San Diego police and a lock of his own hair—reddish brown—and of the wig was sent to Prof. J. D. Lauder, Pomona college chemist, for comparison with the few wisps of hair found under Miss Muir's fingernails.

Police said that Burge also was known as Joseph D. Smith and that he was a dishwasher.

He was taken into custody on a west side street after a woman reported to police that a man was quarreling in women's clothing was loitering in the vicinity. She said the man pulled his modish straw hat down over his eyes whenever he passed a pedestrian.

He was wearing a pink dress, with a lighter pink blouse and blue coat, high-heeled slippers and full-length silk stockings, one of which had a "run" in it.

Speaking with a distinct lisp, he flatly refused to discuss the La Jolla slaying or to say whether he was in San Diego on Monday, his regular day off, police said.

In the shack that he occupied as a home, police found a large quantity of women's wearing apparel.

Discharged from Marines

Honorable discharge papers found in his possession showed that he was born in Oakland, Feb. 14, 1904, and that he enlisted in the marines at Salt Lake City, Aug. 15, 1927. He was discharged from service Aug. 14, 1931, after serving in the Sando campaign in Nicaragua in 1929. He gave Alameda as his home at the time of his discharge.

Upon emerging from Capt. L. L. Curtis' office, he manifested surprise that he should be questioned about the Muir slaying, indicating he thought he had been detained as a burglary suspect.

He insisted he had attended a movie here Monday but said he could not remember the theater or the picture.

After finishing their questioning, police booked Smith, or Burge, on suspicion of a morals offense.

NEW PROBLEM FACES POLICE

LA JOLLA, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Detectives faced a new puzzle today in the mystery attack and slaying of Miss Ruth Muir—the possibility the 45-year-old spinster said by her parents never to have known romance was slain by a woman sex-fiend.

The startling development in the case which has shocked this smart resort city came as a report by laboratory scientists tentatively established the fact bloodwings of hair grasped in the slain Y. W. C. A. executive's hand were those of a woman, and not from Miss Muir's own body or that of a man.

Authorities hesitated to believe the San Antonio, Tex., banker's daughter could have died in such a manner, but admitted it was a possibility she had been bludgeoned by a woman and not a degenerate male, as previously had been assumed.

Miss Muir went alone to a "lover's bench" overlooking the moonlit ocean Monday night. Two hours later she was dead, her head battered by repeated blows from an unidentified heavy object, her clothing torn and her body mutilated.

Autopsy Surgeon's Report

County Autopsy Surgeon P. E. Toomey entered a record of "criminal attack" after careful examination of the body. He said, however, that although the female organs were injured, there was no proof the attack had been performed by a man.

Detective Ed Diekmann of San Diego sent back the report of the hair analysis after a day spent working with Prof. J. D. Lauder, Pomona college in examination of the hairs, underclothing and scrapings of dirt from the murder scene. The report read:

"Preliminary examination reveals that hairs taken from fingernails of left hand and from palm of right hand were female hairs, according to Prof. Lauder, Pomona college."

Early in the case, Autopsy Surgeon Toomey had remarked to reporters the manner of killing Miss Muir was typical of female killers rather than of men. He said it was usual for a woman to strike many blows, as Miss Muir had been struck, rather than one or

His fingerprints were sent to San Diego police and a lock of his own hair—reddish brown—and of the wig was sent to Prof. J. D. Lauder, Pomona college chemist, for comparison with the few wisps of hair found under Miss Muir's fingernails.

Police said that Burge also was known as Joseph D. Smith and that he was a dishwasher.

He was taken into custody on a west side street after a woman reported to police that a man was quarreling in women's clothing was loitering in the vicinity. She said the man pulled his modish straw hat down over his eyes whenever he passed a pedestrian.

He was wearing a pink dress, with a lighter pink blouse and blue coat, high-heeled slippers and full-length silk stockings, one of which had a "run" in it.

Speaking with a distinct lisp, he flatly refused to discuss the La Jolla slaying or to say whether he was in San Diego on Monday, his regular day off, police said.

In the shack that he occupied as a home, police found a large quantity of women's wearing apparel.

Discharged from Marines

Honorable discharge papers found in his possession showed that he was born in Oakland, Feb. 14, 1904, and that he enlisted in the marines at Salt Lake City, Aug. 15, 1927. He was discharged from service Aug. 14, 1931, after serving in the Sando campaign in Nicaragua in 1929. He gave Alameda as his home at the time of his discharge.

Upon emerging from Capt. L. L. Curtis' office, he manifested surprise that he should be questioned about the Muir slaying, indicating he thought he had been detained as a burglary suspect.

He insisted he had attended a movie here Monday but said he could not remember the theater or the picture.

After finishing their questioning, police booked Smith, or Burge, on suspicion of a morals offense.

NEW PROBLEM FACES POLICE

LA JOLLA, Cal., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Detectives faced a new puzzle today in the mystery attack and slaying of Miss Ruth Muir—the possibility the 45-year-old spinster said by her parents never to have known romance was slain by a woman sex-fiend.

The startling development in the case which has shocked this smart resort city came as a report by laboratory scientists tentatively established the fact bloodwings of hair grasped in the slain Y. W. C. A. executive's hand were those of a woman, and not from Miss Muir's own body or that of a man.

LONDON MEETS FOR IN PARLEY

capitol to the gilt-domed statehouse for a conference on drought relief measures.

Potent Setting

It will be a strictly "non-political" conference, but it will set the Democratic and Republican nominees for the presidency against a backdrop of all the political implications of a hard-fought presidential campaign; a setting more potent with political dynamite than the only other comparable meeting of Taft and Bryan in the campaign of 1908.

The precautions against political reaction taken by both the Democratic and Republican boards of strategy were so stringent that they kept the schedule of the day in doubt until the last minute.

Ostensibly, the President and the governors of Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Kansas and Oklahoma will meet to consider an emergency and long-range program to combat a national crisis which two men competing for the nation's highest office must stand for a moment and which must stand for the very end contain the potentialities of an incident, an explosion which would be of paramount importance in the balloting next November.

Nor is that all. There were probably 200,000 persons along the route which the President and Republican nominee followed when they motored to the capitol for the conference; 200,000 persons drawn from the farming lands which many veteran political observers are convinced will be the deciding factor in the November election.

It was because of the political factors necessarily involved in this momentous "non-political" meeting that President Roosevelt vetoed the proposal for brass bands.

It was for that same reason that the flags fluttering across some 30 blocks of the route which the conferees traveled were strictly non-partisan flags which showed a maximum of red, white and blue and which said: "Welcome" but which bore no reference either to the president or the governor of Kansas. It was the same factor that prompted the city officials to request businessmen not to display pictures of either candidate in store windows.

All of these complications were filtering through the mind of the official host, Gov. Clyde B. Herring, when he remarked to newspapermen that it was splendid that "everybody had cooperated" in making the occasion a non-political affair.

"Politics," the genial, baldish Herring mused in reply to a question, "there won't even be a brass band."

He shifted through a sheaf of telegrams on his desk and shook his head. Then, after a pause, he said again: "Politics? Why, every time these fellows lift their hats during the campaign there's politics in it. Why else would you reporters be here?"

That was, in an off-the-record fashion, the attitude of the participants and the observers as the conferees gathered in the Iowa capitol. But they knew they weren't putting it over except for the official record.

Barring unexpected quick time of the Bendix racers, the opening event of tomorrow's program will be the arrival of the Ruth Chatterton derbyists at 1 p. m. The first Bendix finisher is expected to flash across the finish line minutes later.

upon night clubs and cafes where liquor is sold, the accident record, we believe, has been lowered.

Officer Meyer stated, "Up to within six hours of the beginning of September, last month showed much improvement over previous months on the accident list. Up until that time, only two were killed in August traffic, and we believe the constant checking at these night spots has benefited the county and reduced the accident rate because arrests for drunkenness have been made which headed off potential drunk driving accidents."

At about 5:30 p. m. on August 31, four men were killed in two accidents on Orangecorpo avenue near Fullerton. Both accidents, according to records, were the result of boulevard-stop violations.

Promise Cooperation

"If the judges will cooperate by stiffening the fines for boulevard-stop violations, and two or three of them have already told me they will, we are certain to reduce the accident rate still further," Officer Meyer declared.

The 60-day record, showing eight killed as result of boulevard-stop jumping, gives two dead at Talbert road and Harbor boulevard; two dead at Harbor and First street; one dead at Orangecorpo and Magnolia, and three dead at Orangecorpo and Miller road.

Officer Meyer declared every available highway patrol officer will again be on duty over the weekend and Labor day, checking up on drunkenness at night clubs and cafes, in an effort to keep the accident record low. Some 10 officers are expected to make the check up this coming weekend and holiday, Meyer estimated.

SIX PERSONS DIE IN PLANE CRASH

ANCHORAGE Alaska, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Six persons were killed when an airplane crashed on a mountain side in the rugged Russian river lake region, shortly after leaving Anchorage Sunday, it was believed today.

Wreckage of the plane was sighted by aerial searchers late yesterday. There was no sign of life about the plane. The party left Anchorage on a fishing trip and was due back that night. Authorities here were unable to explain cause of the wreck, because flying conditions were good throughout the week.

The persons aboard the ship were: Steve Mills, Anchorage aviator and pilot of the plane; Mr. and Mrs. George Markle; Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Davis and August Tick.

Among those arriving were Sprinters Frank Wykoff and Ralph McCalfe, Johnny Woodruff, 800-meter winner; Cornelius Johnson, high jump champion, and Jack Torrance, Louisiana shot-putter.

Glenn Morris of Denver, who set a world decathlon record, said he was so tired after winning that he couldn't sleep for four nights.

Special "Glenn Morris Day" is to be staged. Morris said his future plans are indefinite but he is not going to return to his job as an automobile salesman.

Al Ulbricksen, coach of Washington's victorious eight oared crew, had nothing but praise for his men, five of whom arrived today.

They rowed under the most adverse conditions," Ulbricksen said, and they came through. They rowed themselves out for the first time in their career."

HOLD PAIR FOR HYNES MURDER

on the service station property when the attack took place but officers declared witnesses have been found who declare neither Martinez nor Rojas was on the property at the time.

Hutchinson was arrested at his home, 920 Center street, Hynes, yesterday, while Neill was arrested at the service station this morning after he returned from a hunting trip.

Rojas, former Compton resident, came here three weeks ago to live with his father, Nieves Rojas, and his brother-in-law, Pete Seanez, of the Delhi address, and to work with them in the beet harvest, according to Deputy Sheriff A. W. Fullerton and Tom Murphree, who investigated here.

The trio who attended the Hynes dance, returned home after the attack, arriving in Santa Ana about 3 a. m. Monday, after stopping en route to rest. Rojas did not realize he was seriously injured until Tuesday morning. Becoming unconscious, he was rushed to county hospital where he died in the late afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, inquest into Rojas' death will be held, in charge of Deputy Coroner Bert Castex, at Winbigger's funeral chapel. Funeral services were to be held this afternoon or tomorrow at Compton. Rojas was unmarried.

Los Angeles officers will bring both Hutchinson and Neill here for the inquest tomorrow, they said.

Offer Reward for Murderers

ward offer would persuade gold prospectors in the hills to hunt the Brites.

"Why should I risk my life to hunt two men who never did anything to me?" one grizzled prospector asked in a conversation with the United Press before the reward was posted. "I'm not going to take the chance when there's nothing in it for me."

Davis Not Satisfied

District Attorney James Davis today said he was not entirely satisfied with the story told by Charles Baker only survivor of the party of four men who tried to arrest the Brites brothers Sunday night.

Baker testified before a coroner's jury that he ran when the Brites opened fire.

"Yet he described the entire affair in detail," the prosecutor said. "How could he have seen what was happening while he was running from the scene? I don't believe I've had the whole truth told me about these killings. I'm not satisfied with the story told on the witness stand."

"I believe I can best serve the interests of the people hereafter by keeping still until I have the entire truth. This is my last public statement."

Considerable sentiment against Davis existed today because of his previously-expressed belief that the Brites brothers fought in defense of their lives, thinking they were being attacked by friends of Baker. That theory is not held generally by Yrekanis.

Potential vigilantism was displayed last night when a large crowd gathered quickly at King's Club, Weed, Cal.,—25 miles from Yreka—after word spread through the mountains that a man identified as John Britie had been captured at Stewart Springs canyon.

Arrest Suspect

The man, a Scandinavian prospector, later was identified as John Soyng, badly frightened by the throng of excited mountain people who gathered from all directions, along with traffic patrolmen and deputy sheriffs, vigorously denied he was Britie.

It was a dramatic moment when Mrs. Chester Barton, wife of a Hynes Creek storekeeper, identified Soyng as one of the fugitives.

"I cannot be mistaken," Mrs. Barton said, peering at the prospector's face, "that is John Britie."

A cordon of deputy sheriffs stepped up and encircled the captive. Handcuffs were snapped on his wrists. The crowd of onlookers moved in closer, murmuring barely audible threats.

A hurried call brought Sheriff Chandler.

Striding into the mountain resort where Soyng sat, trembling, among his guards, Chandler exploded into a rage.

"Why that isn't John Britie. It doesn't look anything like him."

Fosses were withdrawn temporarily from the search for the Brites. Guards remained stationed at all points of egress from the region.

An inquest into the deaths of the three victims of the "Battle of Hynes Creek"—Deputy Sheriff Martin Lange, Deputy Sheriff Joseph Clark and Fred Seaborn, Vallejo, Cal.—brought other renewed threats of possible vigilante violence.

Muttered threats against District Attorney James Davis were heard frequently in the crowded hearing room. Davis offered comparative immunity to the fugitives—a charge of involuntary manslaughter—if they would give themselves up of their own accord.

This offer was withdrawn yesterday, and simultaneously guards were re-posted in the vicinity of the brothers' parents' home, near Hynes Creek. Sheriff Chandler still believed it possible that the Brites brothers may re-visit their mother and father, and be persuaded to surrender.

Remove Bodies of Two Miners

The McBeth mine employees about 500 men working day and night shifts.

Abandon Hope

Officials of the department of mines and of the United States department of mines, who came here post-haste from Charleston encouraged workers and relatives alike, though there was little reason for optimism. The two known dead were killed by black damp and it was believed that the eight others had been killed by it, too.

Doctors and nurses waited on the possibility that some might be brought out alive. Parked by the mine office was a morgue wagon. Beyond the groups of relatives and workers, encircling them, were 2000 curious.

The known dead were Elisha Watts, 32, father of three children, and Andy Gazdik, 60, unmarried. Two hundred feet farther along the tunnel, where they were digging coal yesterday afternoon, were the eight others.

Terrific Blast

Suddenly, between the two groups was a terrific explosion, believed that of black damp set off by one of the electric cars that convey coal through the tunnels to the shafts. Watts and Gazdik dropped their tools and ran for the shaft two miles away, a quarter mile from their starting point. They dropped dead of black damp.

Miners near the shaft—110 of them—reached it safely.

Approximately 500 men, comprising volunteers and employees of the Hutchinson Coal Co., owners of the mine, worked in the tunnel at one time, digging, carrying back the debris, and timbering the new tunnel.

The trapped men were:

Grover Saunders, 28, father of two children; Hack Adams, 50, father of five children; Gus Mounts, 33, father of one child; Bill Refett, 40, married; Tom Tiller, 26, married; Victor Corillo, 25, unmarried; Ed Saunders, 30, Negro, and Julius McShan, 35, Negro.

Man Bound Over On Theft Count

Arrested after he assertedly stole a case of wine and some whiskey from a truck parked in front of Los Palermos cafe on West Fifth street August 31, Chris Gallardo, 26, of 1030 Logan street, today was held to answer to superior court on a charge of petty theft with prior conviction of a felony.

Judge Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana justice court held Gallardo to answer after testimony showed Gallardo was released from San Quentin three months ago after serving two years on a drunk driving conviction. He was arrested after Charles Denio, truck operator, and Pernia Alarcon, cafe manager, reported they saw him disappear down the street with the loot. Their attention was attracted to him when he dropped two bottles of wine, as he pulled the case from the truck, it was said.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT
You should not ask God at your heaviest to perform miracles which look like magic. Yet, there is nothing more miraculous than the way in which the Lord walks by your side and transforms your weakness into strength. Because He is with you, you are able to bear bravely your heavy burden of grief and disappointment and weakness.
The hard and commonplace are given a touch of dignity, beauty and splendor by the Master's presence. His tender, soothing and healing His strength gives you power to walk humbly but triumphantly.

$49,472 WILL BE SPENT ON IMPROVEMENTS

Plans for the finishing touches on the Santiago creek park project, calling for an expenditure of $49,472, were in the hands of county WPA officials today. The blueprint, plans and specifications, approved by the Santa Ana planning commission and the city council, will be sent to state WPA headquarters for final approval early next week, according to County WPA Director Dan Mulholland.

The plans, which were presented to engineers of the WPA here today, call for employment of 83 men for at least seven months. In general, the proposed completion work calls for the following: Installation of a water system and ornamental lights; construction of a recreational building, tennis courts, picnic tables, benches, community fireplace centers, walks and trails; landscaping of the entire area; installation of playground equipment.

Moreland at 1:30 a. m. today and jailed on a drunk driving charge. Mrs. Tom Ortega of the Delhi address was the complainant. According to Mrs. Ortega, the Kilpatrick car got out of control and damaged both the house and fence as it careened into the yard.

DIVINING ROD AND PSYCHIC PENCIL REQUIRED TO FIGURE NOVEMBER ELECTION VICTORS

By GEORGE HART

The Bear-Trojan fricassee and the Stanford-Husky muss are not the only torrid tussles slated for early November. Football, after all, is a mild and innocent pastime, and withal, easy to forecast. But look at this line-up if you're looking for trouble:

Collins vs. Sheppard.
McFadden vs. Westover.
Utt vs. Watson.
Heffron vs. Kuchel.
Riley vs. Lyon.

The tremendous sale of headache tablets reported immediately following the recent primary was accounted for entirely by erstwhile candidates, not yet by folks who thought the Townsend vote was a myth. Much of the demand has been traced to the more foresighted political dopesters who realize what's ahead of them in November. Rather, who realize that they don't know what's ahead of them in November.

It's a swell opportunity to get rich. All you have to do is figure out the winners in advance. And all you need for that is a psychic pencil, a divining rod, a rabbit's left hind hoof, a trunk full of horse shoes, and a lot of gu—gu—gu.

Expert Guesser Needed

Just find out whether the Townsend vote will stay put, and whether the Townsend Democrats, and whether there's some Townsend vote that wasn't out at the primary. Then discover whether the November vote will follow party lines. Then guess how the vote for defeated candidates in the primary will be split by the remaining pair in the run-off. And finally show what will become of the new vote, that didn't turn out for the primary.

That, in the main, is all there is to it. Of course, there are a few minor angles to figure, such as the church vote, if there is such a thing any more, which is also one of the sweet mysteries of current politics. The local option amendment on the state ballot may answer that question. But you must have the answer before then, if you're to get rich.

New Deal Angle
There is, likewise, the New Deal angle to be figured. Will F.D.R. sweep all Democratic candidates into office with him? Or will he do any sweeping at all? Maybe will Landon get the broom away from him? You must answer that one, too.

Most of the political observers being 29,759 out of 62,833 registered. Most observers believe that the November vote will exceed 70 per cent and probably come near 80 per cent of the registration, which itself will be larger than for the primary. That would mean, if 65,000 were registered and 75 per cent voted, that the November vote would reach 48,750. That is nearly double the primary vote.

While there is some idea, uncertain as it may be, as to how half of the votes may be cast, because of the way they went in the primary, there is scarcely the slightest idea as to how the other half will be cast.

It might be easy to figure the party contests if the vote followed party lines, but party lines are growing to be more and more of a joke, not only for voters but for candidates. If the candidates don't know which party they belong to, the voters can hardly be expected to know or care.

But do not be discouraged by seeming difficulties in picking the winners. It should be at least as easy as pointing out the cutest of the Dionnes.

Close Vote—On Paper
Take, for example, the congressional race. Mr. Collins, the Republican Democrat, got 8343 votes in the Orange county primary. Mr. Sheppard, the Townsend Democrat, got 7300. There were 5019 other Republican votes cast and 6154 other Democratic votes. If Mr. Collins should get all those other Republican votes and Mr. Sheppard get the other Democratic votes, besides keeping what they did get, that would give Mr. Sheppard 13,954 to 13,922 for Mr. Collins.

But a lot of Republicans got sore at Mr. Collins because of a Democratic circular that promised his support to the Roosevelt policies, and a lot of Democrats will balk at a Townsend candidate. When it comes right down to taking the hurdle, those Republicans probably will balk at Mr. Sheppard, too, so they'll vote for Mr. Collins or stay home. And the anti-Sheppard Democrats may do the same thing. Which makes it all a lot simpler, you see.

Then there will be supposedly another 17,500 voters of both parties that didn't vote at the primary at all. And nobody knows what they will do.

Thus, the problem is completely simplified, and you have the winner clearly revealed to you.

PSYCHOLOGIST ANALYZES S. A. CLUB MEMBERS

Lions club president, Rolla Hays Jr., Franklin West, Ivie Stein, Ernest Layton and Burr Shaffer were "psychoanalyzed" today as a part of the demonstration presented by William E. Benton in connection with his address, "Human Engineering." The interesting program was presented at the luncheon meeting of the club at Green Cat cafe.

Benton has become well known throughout the country for his character analyses, and is in demand for lectures to sales agencies and advertising concerns. In his address, he pointed out that psychology is an important factor in carrying on any type of business. It is extremely important to know your customer, Benton said, but it is even more important to know yourself.

The speaker stressed the fact that there is no such thing as a general psychology when applied to business. What may appeal to one customer in a sales talk, may have a reverse effect on another customer, he said. Each prospect, therefore, must be approached as an individual and not after a pattern, the speaker pointed out.

The fastest thing a human being can do is to wink an eye. That takes an average of one-tenth second.

OFFICERS FOR MODEL PLANE CLUB ELECTED

Santa Ana Model Builders' club, made up of a group of future aviators and plane builders between the ages of 14 and 20, held their first meeting last night at the home of Tom Engelman, 2459 Heliotrope drive, Santa Ana.

Featuring the meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. Tom Engelman was elected as commander, with a supporting staff of Laurence Dresser, captain, and Jerry Robb, secretary. The newly chosen commander placed 10th in the National Model race at Boston recently.

The Santa Ana unit hopes to become full-fledged members of the National Aeronautical association in the Junior Birdmen department within the next few weeks when they expect to receive their charter from the N. A. A. Charter members in addition to Engelman, Dresser and Robb will be Wally Grigg, Ray Baxter, Robert Perry, Jack Sullivan, James Adams, Hsie Hammond and Ralph Baker.

At their next convocation, which is to be held in the near future, Engelman hopes to secure Pat Hogan, wing commander of the Junior Birdmen, to speak. Engelman invites anyone between the ages of 14 and 20 who is interested in model plane construction to attend the next meeting.

SERA BOOSTS FOOD BUDGETS 10 PER CENT

An increase of 10 per cent in food budgets for those on relief under SERA direction was announced today by County Director Terrence Halloran. The steady upward trend in food prices throughout Southern California was the reason for the budget increase, he said.

In announcing the increase, he pointed out that there have been no changes made in relation to food budgets since last March. Over the lapsing five months period, the cost of living has increased to such an extent, that the cost of foods is out of proportion with the food budgets, Halloran said.

No estimate as to the net increase in actual cash to be expended as a result of the 10 per cent increase was available, due to the fact that families will be effected differently, according to the number involved. Checks issued September 1 were for the regular amount. The 10 per cent increase in the food budget which was scheduled for September 1, will be added to the checks issued September 15, Halloran announced.

TAX PROBLEM DISCUSSED AT TOASTMASTERS' CLUB MEETING

That the tax problem is a paramount issue in the minds of many men was clearly indicated at last night's meeting of the Toastmasters club, Smedley chapter No. 1, when all the speakers, without any previous understanding, undertook to discuss the question from various angles.

Eugene Kruger, newly elected president of the club, took first place with his carefully worked out study under the subject, "You Paid It, All Right," in which he analyzed the various forms of taxes paid and showed the grand total of taxes paid by the average employed person to have been in the neighborhood of $246 for 1935.

James Anderson, in a discussion of the chain store tax proposition, rated second place. He argued that the adoption of the proposed tax on chain stores would not only effect the great national chains doing business in California, who could afford to pay the tax, but that it would probably put many of the smaller, locally owned chains completely out of business.

Henry Bosch presented the single tax proposal and advised his hearers that while this proposition has been ruled off the ballot for the present year, it will be on again at the next election, since there is a permanently endowed fund devoted to the purpose of keeping the issue alive.

R. C. Smedley answered the question, "Who Pays the Taxes?" by showing the universal reach of our present tax system, in which the "invisible" taxes catch every person who buys any article of whatever sort. More than 50 hidden taxes apply to a loaf of bread and more than 60 to a quart of milk, the speaker stated. That our government is probably worth what it costs was conceded, the question being whether we can afford to support ourselves on our present scale of government service and expenditure.

CEMENT SCATTERED AS TRUCKS COLLIDE

Cement was scattered over Anaheim's principal intersection, Los Angeles and Center streets, when two trucks crashed in an accident which proved more spectacular than serious shortly after 5 o'clock this morning. There was no one injured and damage was done only to one truck.

A five-ton truck owned by the Van Velsier company, of Los Angeles, and transporting about a ton of cement in 100 pound sacks to Newport from Colton, was struck by an even larger truck owned by the Belyea Truck company, of Los Angeles, and carrying a caterpillar tractor.

The cement-laden truck, which was also hauling a trailer, was travelling south on Los Angeles street when the other truck was going east on Center street.

The cement-laden truck swung to the east to avoid a collision but was rammed in the front end and badly damaged. The Belyea truck was not harmed. The impact caused several of the cement sacks to tumble off the truck, some of them splitting open on the street.

Two persons were slightly injured at Bristol and Edinger streets yesterday as automobiles operated by Bert C. Hoffman, 28, 805 South Ross, and Herman E. Hammerstead, 23, 404 West Second, collided.

Hoffman received bruised legs and cuts on his head, while F. D. Hopke, 437 1-2 South Ross, was cut on the hand. Officers J. F. McWilliams and William Nielsen rendered first aid. Hoffman was proceeding easterly on Edinger and Hammerstead, northerly on Bristol at time of collision.

FRANK PIERCE HONOR GUEST AT RECEPTION

A public farewell reception was held last night in the educational building of the First Christian church for Frank Pierce, who for the past five years has served the church as director of education and music but has now terminated his duties to become associated with the California Farm Bureau federation in developing the state and national farm bureau convention program.

The affair, which was under the supervision of Louis Williams, chairman of the church department of social functions, was attended by over 150 people. The program consisted of a burlesque skit of a vacation trip Mr. and Mrs. Pierce had recently taken to the High Sierras and a vocal solo by Charles Hill. Hill was accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Williams.

On completion of the vocal solo a talk was given by N. D. Haskell, chairman of the official board, which led up to the presentation of farewell gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Pierce. Mrs. Pierce was given a compact while Mr. Pierce received a watch. Engraved on the timepiece were the words, "From your friends of the First Christian Church of Santa Ana."

The program was closed with a speech by the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the church.

PROGRAM HELD BY BREAKFAST CLUB

Santa Ana's early risers, members of the Breakfast club, met at 7:30 o'clock today at the Main cafeteria and heard a program featuring a trombone trio of Oscar Stock, Marion Madison, and Cleo Hibbs.

Following the entertainment portion of the program, a new member, J. H. McCormick, of the Firestone Rubber company, was introduced by Fred Sweitzer. Initiation of new members will be held within the next few weeks.

W. C. Jerome, on being questioned, presented the facts of registration for voters and told how absentee could exercise the ballot and gave data pertaining to the time limit of registration.

President E. W. Cochems appointed a committee of three to serve on invitations. Hunter Leach, Jesse Elliott and C. F. ("Skinny") Skirven comprise the committee.

FAIL TO PLACE BLAME IN AUTO CRASH DEATH

An inquest jury sitting at the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral chapel, Anaheim, yesterday afternoon, reported there was lack of enough evidence to place the blame for the traffic death of Arthur S. Moote, 64, of Long Beach, Monday night, after an automobile crash on Orangewood avenue at Magnolia avenue, near Fullerton.

Moote died at Anaheim sanitarium about 10:30 p. m. after a collision at 5:30 between his car and one operated by Harold R. Martin, 30, Anaheim. Martin declared the accident resulted when Moote ran through a boulevard stop sign.

At almost the same hour, on Orangewood at Miller road, a few miles from the Magnolia intersection, three other men were killed and their bodies burned, as one driver "ran" a boulevard stop. The men were H. Duncan Smith, 47, prominent Pasadena lamp shade manufacturer; Julian Garcia, 23, 6947 East Carson, Long Beach; and Garcia's companion, Refugio Mendez, 40, Artesia. A coroner's jury yesterday morning said the act of Smith in going through the boulevard stop without stopping was the cause of the trio's deaths.

Between 10,000 and 20,000 drawings are used today for a 750-foot short film in the animated cartoon field. In early days, only 3000 drawings were required.

EVELYN COLLINS FUNERAL IS HELD

BALBOA, Sept. 3.—Funeral services were held from the Dixon chapel yesterday for Mrs. Evelyn Collins, 29, who passed away at a San Bernardino hospital a few days ago. The services were in charge of the Rev. W. I. Lowe of Costa Mesa. Interment was made at Westminster Memorial Park.

The deceased was a native of California, having spent most of her life amid the surroundings in which she spent her last days. Her home was at 303 Thirty-second street, Newport Beach. She graduated from both the local elementary schools and also from the Newport Harbor Union high school. While in high school she composed several songs that have been adopted for permanent future use by the student body of the institution. She graduated from the high school in 1932. She was a member of Christ Church by the Sea.

She leaves her husband, Robert Collins; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Graham; two brothers, Harold Jr. and Lyle, and a sister, Verda.

Taxes On Wealth Real Reason For Attack On F. D. R.

As the campaign progresses, it is becoming increasingly evident that the major issue, and perhaps the only issue, in this campaign is the Republican promise to cut taxation on swollen fortunes and large corporations.

That President Roosevelt has achieved a remarkable record in restoring prosperity is now undisputed. That his program for social and economic justice is sound is demonstrated by the fact that its main features are included in the Republican platform.

Those pesky questions again tormenting the poor elephant! How is Gov. Landon going to balance the budget and repeal the tax on undistributed corporation profits?

The only direct issue then is taxes, and the evidence is overwhelming that Gov. Landon is basing his hope for election more and more upon his promise of tax relief to the men who control the purse strings of America. The Republican propagandists did pretty well weeping lower the income tax exemption on single persons and married men? let the cat out of the bag.

The Governor let it be known that he is not concerned about what happens to taxes on the consumers. His idea is to slash the levies on large corporations, and he said so in so many words.

In an editorial pointing out that there is no issue between the parties on the question of direct or indirect taxation, the Baltimore Sun said:

"There is an issue between the parties over the new tax on undistributed corporate earnings enacted by the last Congress at Mr. Roosevelt's insistence. Mr. Landon has called this levy 'cock-eyed' and has demanded its repeal. That is the only real tax issue between the parties in the campaign to date."

ROOSEVELT REFUSED COMPROMISE

The fact is that if President Roosevelt had been willing to make the same compromise on taxation with the corporate interests that Gov. Landon is making, he would be running for re-election today virtually without opposition. From the day that the Chief Executive let it be known that he intended to levy taxes on ability to pay, he has been opposed at every step by men of great wealth.

Besides imposing equitable levies upon those possessing huge incomes, President Roosevelt also plugged up the loopholes which made such a farce out of tax legislation under Presidents Coolidge and Hoover. The fact that J. P. Morgan and other multi-millionaires escaped paying income taxes during the depression is still fresh in the minds of the public.

HIGHER TAXES ON CONSUMERS

In a radio address, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, pointed out the real threat to the men of moderate and small income in Gov. Landon's tax proposals. He showed that if the law imposing taxation of $600,000,000 annually on corporations is repealed, then new sources of revenue must be tapped to make up that amount. He said:

"Is he going to tack on some more 'hidden taxes'? Is he going to over 'taxes on the poor folks' until Gov. Landon's speech at Buffalo Will he sponsor a federal sales tax on retail transactions including food, fuel and clothing?"

Senator Bennett Clark, Missouri Democrat, has also pointed out what will happen to persons of moderate and small income if the Landon tax proposals should be written into law. He said:

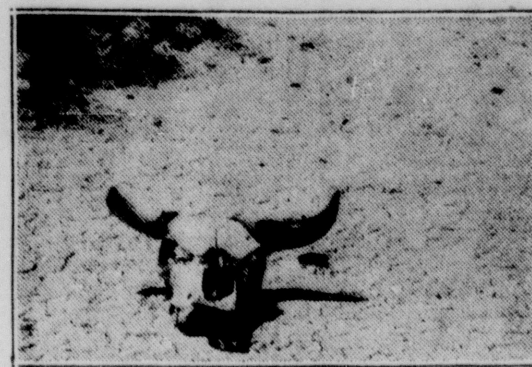

"The one definite thing that emerges from Gov. Landon's hodgepodge of half-truths and suppressions is that he lines up squarely with the big tax avoiders."

Stage Prop Skull Used By New Deal In Phony Picture

The most pictured cow of the year, dead from the drought is treated in the Northwest as just another New Deal stage prop—a phony.

This column mentioned recently the big propaganda stuff

It's an open guess whether this skull is the skull of the famous "cow with the crumpled horn" or of Mrs. O'Leary's Moll that kicked over the lantern and started the Chicago fire. Anyway, the Fargo (N. D.) Forum gives assurance that the skull has been on the desert a long time. It's a hunk of bone the New Deal photographers used as a stage prop for "drought" pictures, several weeks before the drought occurred.

working in Washington to re-elect President Roosevelt AT YOUR EXPENSE.

Perhaps we didn't emphasize sufficiently that much of this New Deal publicity is nothing but the rankest baloney.

Exposed by Dakota Paper

The principal feature of this phony is admitted by the New Deal itself, when one of its photographers states, according to an Associated Press dispatch, that "a view of the skull was taken on alkali ground."

Alkali ground is desert ground. Nobody ever undertakes to farm it. Yet the picture was used to show the devastating effect of the drought in the Northwest.

The Northwest doesn't like to believe that its welfare and security depend on the New Deal's ability to deceive newspaper readers in the Eastern cities. SO THE FARGO (N. D.) FORUM EXPOSED THE PHONY PICTURE. IT SHOWED THAT THE SAME SKULL GOT INTO THE FOREGROUND OF THREE DIFFERENT LANDSCAPES.

It said further that THE BLEACHED SKULL "UNQUESTIONABLY HAD LAIN ON THE PRAIRIE FOR YEARS BEFORE IT BECAME THE HIGH POINT OF INTEREST IN A DROUGHT AREA PICTURE."

Picture Taken Last May

Now here is the chief point about the cow's skull. THE NEW DEAL CONFESSES THAT THE PICTURE WAS TAKEN LAST MAY. That was long before the drought started.

WHY WERE THE NEW DEALERS TAKING DROUGHT PICTURES LAST MAY? Let them answer. The only answer we can think of was that the New Deal was preparing for an excuse—any excuse—to dump federal money into the Northwest in advance of the Presidential campaign. THAT MONEY IS NOT COLLECTED FROM THE RICH, AS YOU HAVE BEEN TOLD BY THE NEW DEAL. IT IS THE MONEY YOU PAY IN HIDDEN TAXES.

Of course, a real drought came. If the New Deal after the drought of 1934 had followed Gov. Landon's plan and aided the building of small ponds on farms throughout the Northwest the suffering would not have been so severe. Also, Gov. Landon was immediately on the job in 1936, getting freight rates reduced for drought sufferers. He didn't need phony pictures.

AND WHY IS IT NECESSARY, IN ANY INSTANCE, TO HAVE THESE PHOTOGRAPHERS TRAVELING ABOUT THE COUNTRY AT PUBLIC EXPENSE?

FOR THE LAST TWO YEARS NOBODY HAS TAKEN ANY STOCK IN THE NEW DEAL PROMISES, BUT WE THOUGHT WE COULD AT LEAST BELIEVE THEIR PHOTOGRAPHS.

MISS DALES HONOR GUEST AT SHOWER

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 3.—The approaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Dales was the incentive for a shower given this week at the home of Mrs. Stewart Burnett in Long Beach. Miss Dales was bridesmaid at the wedding of Mrs. Burnett (Eugenia Huddle), of Garden Grove, last April.

The game of hearts was the diversion of the evening, with first prize going to Miss Florence Bayley, of Lynwood, and consolation to Miss Manice Dales, of Garden Grove. Gifts were piled on a table decorated with shades of pink and yellow, with a parasol in the same shades suspended from the light fixtures.

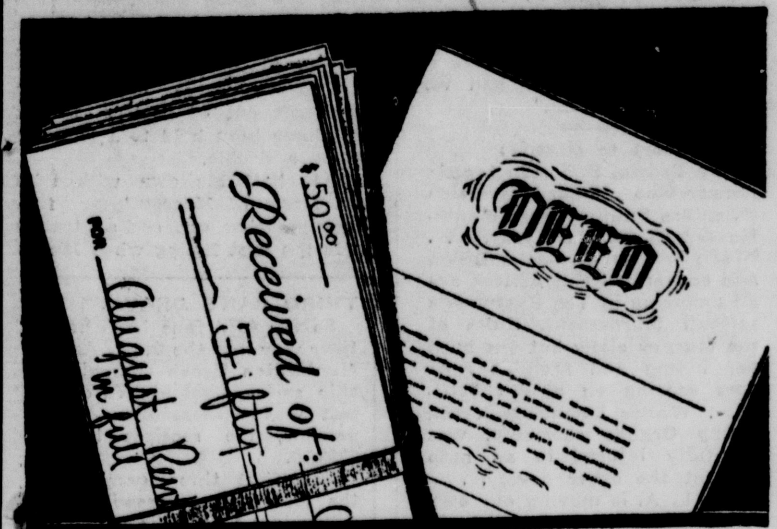

A salad course, sandwiches and coffee were served at small tables centered with asters and nut cups of pink and yellow at each place. Present besides the honoree, were her mother, Mrs. William Dales, and sister, Roxana and Janice; Mrs. H. A. Lionettes Win Game At Laguna LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 3.—Laguna Lionettes soft-ball team and other girls interested in soft-ball, following an hour's practice on the high school grounds, divided into two teams, Lionettes vs. Tigerettes, and played a fast nine-innings game, which was won by the Lionettes by the score of 23 to 18. The game, played Tuesday night, attracted a large crowd of rooters. In another game played on the same evening, the Pomona Tile team defeated Laguna Lions by 20-11. For the visiting Pomonans, Chilcott was outstanding player, fanning out three men in each of three consecutive innings. Spottawood, for Pomona, was heavy hitter, scoring in the first, second and fourth innings. For the Laguna Lions, Elterman, Hastie, King and Arnett did good work. To date, the Pomona Tiles have maintained an undefeated record.

First round game from Santa Barbara, 5-0, as Ray Hodgson made the newspaper sky-lines with a brilliant no-hit pitching effort.

After walking the first two men to face him, Hodgson got as hot as Mt. Vesuvius. He fanned nine. In registering his perfect game, however, the Irvine right-hander got flashy support from the Orange County Night league champions. A Kuhn-to-G. Avila-to-Lagier double play lifted him out of trouble once, and brilliant catches by "Chano" Avila, Dwight Ahern and Horace Sears took the spark out of Santa Barbara's attack.

Held scoreless for five frames, Irvine ran amuck in the sixth and seventh. The Beantippers win that game, however, as Ahern led off with a triple. G. Avila was safe on a fielder's choice. H. Sears' long double scored Ahern and Avila. Hodgson got a life when Miller dropped his high fly, Sears taking third and Hodgson second when Miller threw for Sears. Singles by Kuhn and Salisbury brought 'em in. Ahern brought in the other tally. He singled, raced to third on G. Avila's hit, tallied on H. Sears' fly to deep center.

Timely Tips on Outdoor Life

Three confessed violators of game laws came to grips in Orange county justice courts within the past few days, showing the vigilance of game wardens.

Thos. Sanelino, Los Angeles, and Peter Echevarren, Puente, paid fines of $25 each when they pleaded guilty before Justice John Landell at San Juan Capistrano to charges of shooting doves before the season opened. They were arrested on the Mountain Ranch on the lower Aliso creek.

William Alfred Reinhardt of Huntington Beach was given a suspended fine of $50 for having more doves in his possession than the law allows. He was arrested near the mouth of the Santa Ana river and taken before Justice D. J. Dodge at Costa Mesa.

Hatching Trouble for Louis

Promoter Mike Jacobs wraps his arm around Al Ettore and looks over his glasses at the young three-time conqueror of Leroy Haynes signs to box Joe Louis 15 rounds at the Philadelphia Municipal Stadium, Sept. 22.

By JACK CUDDY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—Al Ettore, Philadelphia's "Blond Tiger," claims that Joe Louis is "yellow."

This is a fighting accusation, indeed, even in the city of brotherly love. And it might be passed over as one of those "whistling past the graveyard" statements were it not for the manner in which it was delivered. Baer, Uzdun, Schmeling, Carnera and Sharkey have belittled the fighting prowess of Joe Louis. But none ever came out pointblank and said that the Brown Bomber is a "cowardly, overrated pugilist."

That is exactly what Ettore has done. This blonde, 22-year-old Philadelphia Italian—the same age as Louis—is galloping up and down the city of brotherly love boasting he will make Louis "quit" before the seventh round of their scheduled 15-round bout at Municipal Stadium, Sept. 22.

Ettore insists that Louis is "quit" in his bout with Max Schmeling—that he lay there on the canvas with a gloved foot protecting his face from the resin. Ettore insists also that Louis is vastly overrated because the Brown Bomber was unable to put "Old Man" Sharkey away until after he had risen from the floor three times.

Football practice at Santa Ana high school will begin next Wednesday afternoon at Poly field, 2. A proposed game with Whittier is definitely off for that day. Compton may draw it. But Foote said he would like to arrange a set-to with Al Reboin's Huntington Beach eleven if possible. He intends to contact Reboin about it this week.

Prospects here are uncertain. Eighteen lettermen graduated in June, leaving only eight players of experience. This group is headed by Captain Dwight Nott, and includes Ferris Wall, who probably will move from guard to right tackle; Loye Meyer, left guard; Musick, fullback; Len Stafford, halfback; Harold Tucker, quarterback; Joe Kadowaki, a back who probably will be used at guard, and Vernon Carney, tackle. Another prospect is Bill Milligan, 220-pound left tackle, who was out last season because of a broken arm.

component to fill the only bye date in Santa Ana's schedule—October 2. A proposed game with Whittier is definitely off for that day. Compton may draw it. But Foote said he would like to arrange a set-to with Al Reboin's Huntington Beach eleven if possible. He intends to contact Reboin about it this week.

SUMMER PASSES BRING AUTUMN TOUCHDOWNS IN TEXAS

Any Texan will tell you that the three principal products of his state are cotton, cattle, and good football players.

Even in 112-degree heat with frontier centaurs, cowboys, and showgirls on every corner, the gridiron game is the main topic in Lone Star territory.

In Texas they believe that touchdowns are made in the summer time, with passes of course, and this fall's supply already is on its way.

A Texas signal-caller passes from behind his own goal line, and coaches, teammates, and spectators think nothing of it.

Texans credit their high school coaches with the high grade of ball played by their colleges. Each summer these high school mentors sit as disciples of several of the nation's leading drillmasters at a coaching school.

Texas Christian was host to the high school men this summer, and Fort Worth the location of an innovation in high school ball, the first annual all-star game between the "North" and the "South," the teams representing different sections of the state.

Coaching school instructors coached the squads. Francis Schmidt, formerly of Texas Christian but now of Ohio State, had charge of the Northern All-Stars, Texas Yankees. Bernie Moore of Louisiana State prepared the

COLLEGE BOYS END MYTH OF PRO MASTERY

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Professional football paid its tribute today to Minnesota's silver-haired master, Bernie Bierman, who turned all his genius against the vaunted Detroit Lions with a fan-picked college team and gained a startling 7-to-7 tie in the third annual all-star game at Soldier field.

His squad of All-Americans settled for all time the bitter controversy over merits of professional and amateur play when Vernal (Babe) Levoir swept through a wide hole at Detroit's right tackle midway in the second quarter and raced 18 yards for the first touchdown of this unique series.

The Lions, beaten at every turn by the Minnesota system that earned the Gophers two straight mythical national championships, seized their only scoring opportunity early in the fourth quarter and pushed over the touchdown that saved their faces, with a 20-yard drive after recovering a fumble.

More than 76,000 paid $135-146 expecting to see the world professional champions run over the ambitious all-stars. Instead, the Lions were whipped decisively by every measure but total scoring.

The collegians ran up 9 first downs gained 117 yards by rushing, 49 by passing and 18 punting. Detroit made 5 first downs, gained 124 yards by rushing and four by passing.

On a team of famous college stars, "Tuffy" Leemans of George Washington University drew the double role of hero and goat. It was his 20-yard forward pass to Frank (Butch) Loeb of Purdue that placed the ball on the Lions' 20-yard line in the second quarter, and his shovel pass to Sheldon Boise of Minnesota that set the stage for Levoir's touchdown sprint.

Leemans' fumble in the fourth quarter put the Lions in scoring territory. Tom Hupke recovered for Detroit on the 30-yard line. A drive moved Detroit down to the seven. Caddell, on a reverse, circled left end and dived into the end zone for the Detroit touchdown. Clark drop-kicked the extra point.

Wayne Millner, Notre Dame, and Keith Topping, Stanford, performed exactly as Bierman planned. These two great ends spilled Detroit's attack consistently.

The 1936 collegians unwrapped a more complete offensive than their predecessors who tied the Chicago Bears 0 to 0 in 1933 and lost to the same club, 5 to 0, last year. Berwanger, Shakespeare, Smith, Leemans, Levoir, Beise and Crayne produced reverses, spins, intricate passes and quick kicks with the ease of a veteran unit despite the fact they hardly knew each other 18 days ago.

'Stream-Lined' Uniforms For El Trojan

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—University of Southern California is planning on more speed on the gridiron this fall judging by the new stream-line equipment that is being received these days at the Trojan athletic office for the candidates who will start practice next week.

Equipment will have greater protection than ever before for the players but will be slightly lighter in weight and the new placing of pads will give the boys more freedom of action.

At games this year the well-dressed Trojan gridders will wear the following:

Cardinal headgear with plenty of sponge rubber to protect the ears and cranium.

Maroon jersey, with block numbers of burnt orange 5 inches in height in front and 12 inches in height in rear.

Satin pants, grey in color, with knee pads sewed on inside instead of outside.

Maroon socks, reaching to knees.

Sturdy shoes for linemen; flexible lightweight footwear for backs; square-toed shoes for kickers.

Hip pads that slip into grooves of the pants and are worn outside of the jersey.

Instead of sweat shirts, new warm-up jerseys of maroon with "Southern California" in gold letters across the chest will be worn by the players before the games and by the reserves on the bench.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport
By EDDIE WEST

Coach "Stub" Allison of the University of California puts Larry Lutz on his list of the 11 greatest football players of all time.

Naturally, he adds Santa Ana's All-America tackle on the lists of the greatest gridders he's ever coached, as well as on his all-California list.

Floyd Blowers of Santa Ana appears on Coach Allison's list of great players he has coached.

Largely as a tribute to our Lewis Wetherell, who won the men's singles, and to Miss Elizabeth Deike, two-time women's champion, the U. S. National Public Parks tennis tournament will be held in California during 1938, it is reliably reported.

Wetherell returns to the University of Southern California for his junior year this month. He says he appreciates more than ever the wonderful climatic conditions prevailing here after playing through a tournament in weather that sent the thermometer above 103.

Time was when the University of Southern California's football roster, from Coach Howard Jones down through the Ernie Smiths and "Tay" Browns, was a model of American regularity, with names that even the Trojan mascot could pronounce.

El Trojan was a winner in those days, for all the tall tales that our old American families are getting soft.

In contrast pipe the names of some of the lads on S.C.'s 1936 roll: Peccanti, Wilensky, Brouseau, Duboski, Wehba, Belko, Bukovich, DeHette, LeDuc, Ostoich, Wrotnowski, Stagnaro, Radovich and Tonelli.

Time marches on! Two years ago George Peterkin was the biggest man in night ball. Once he even ordered Huntington Beach to use a certain pitcher (Frank Sabella) against Santa Ana, and made it stick.

Pete is forgotten by all but a few of his old friends as Stars and Oilers struggle for supremacy this season. If he's seen a game he has kept well.

Arrangements to handle one of the largest boxing crowds of the season at the Orange County Athletic club tonight have been completed by Promoter Bob Singleton. Eight "main events" are on the card.

Feature of the big show will be that no fighter will know in what order he appears. Because all 16 of the amateurs are topnotchers, Singleton decided to draw lots to determine order of the bouts.

Fighting Frankie Lockhart, Santa Ana's hard-hitting bantam, who was out of the fight game nearly two years, hits the comeback trail against Bob Martin, undefeated protege of Bert Colima.

Lockhart has a tough assignment, for Martin has never been defeated, scoring 10 knockouts and winning 12 decisions in 22 starts. On the other hand, Lockhart is the only man ever to stop Wally Hally and never has been knocked out himself.

"Bud" McCarter, "bald eagle" of Orange, meets stiff opposition in "Tiny" Antle, now of Whittier, a former amateur champion of Oklahoma. McCarter will spot Antle 10 rounds, the Whittier fighter scoring 185.

Orange county's "uncrowned" lightweight champ, Don Benzor, of Anaheim, seeks revenge when he meets Joe Ybarra, classy San Bernardino battler who won a close decision over him at Ontario recently. Ybarra is conqueror or such fighters as Willie Fields and "Babyface" Shaw.

Raoul Solis, former Golden Gloves champ, will battle Wally Hally in the fifth round. "Cyclone" Jure, Redlands veteran, Gerald Barry, the fistic cut-up whose antics always bring roars of laughter from the fans, tangles with rugged Paul Saucedo. Rino Munoz, another Anaheim puncher, opposes tough Eddie Baker of Ontario. Benny Garcia, Santa Ana, meets Young Lacy, Whittier. "Baby" Rosales, Placentia, is to meet Joe O'Brien, Little Creek CCC champion.

Both smashed into the finals of the open yesterday. Templeton swung into its first action of the tourney with a surprising 16-5 triumph over the Texas Rangers.

Eds on the champion would be longer were it not for two factors: First, has Tony's nose healed completely after the gashing and smashing it received during his triumph over Jimmy McLarnin last May, and second, will marriage lessen Tony's ring prowess? An operation on Tony's nose necessitated three postponements of this title bout.

'BOMO' KORAL'S HOMER COSTS NEVA SHUTOUT

Huntington Beach had Santa Ana stymied today—three up and one to go.

Unless something akin to a miracle happens, the "Little World Series" will be concluded at Huntington Beach Friday night.

Pitched into a state of helplessness, the once brilliant Stars went into almost complete eclipse here last night as the win-crazy Oilers "poured it on" for the third straight time, 5 to 1.

For the second time during the series, the Stars looked badly outclassed. Looie Neva was the chief reason. The rangy Russian out-pitched Jimmy Conter again, handcuffing the home guard with six hits. A home run by "Bomo" Koral against the left-center bleachers in the sixth inning cost him a shutout. Koral's drive caught Orv Schuchardt out of position or it might have been held to a triple or possibly a double.

Coates held his own with the "Mad Monk of Moscow" for five innings, getting out of a traffic jam in the first inning when Huntington Beach loaded the bases with one down but failed to score when Paul Neva fanned and Rodgers grounded out.

George Murray opened the sixth with a single to center, and Looie Neva was purposely passed. This strategy—which would be sharply questioned by some oldtime baseball men since the score was still 0 to 6—went awry. Paul Neva promptly doubled to center, scoring Murray, and Manager Rodgers rifled a single to right that brought in both Nevas. Ed Daley got another hit, a single to center that drove Rodgers to third but Bob Smith grounded out and Osborn hit into a double play, Coates to Coote to Koral. Rodgers beat the relay home but Koral blocked him off the plate.

Looie Neva opened the eighth with an infield hit to short. Brother Paul followed with a scorching double over third. Looie scored easily on Rodgers' fly to Ballard, and Paul on Daley's out, Preble to Coote.

Neva had Santa Ana on his hip all the way and brilliant support made his task all the easier. Murray took an extra-base hit away from Reboin in the fifth with a sparkling catch of a liner over third, and Bob Smith came up with two dazzling plays at first base on Coates and Coote, both on sharply hit balls.

The Stars seemed discouraged after the Oilers' three-run attack in the sixth. Only big "Bomo" Koral, who is Public Enemy No. 1 with Huntington Beach fans, kept it up to the bitter end. And Koral should be on the bench because he has a broken finger. Francis Conrad, former Santa Ana shortstop, was down from Visalia for the conflict. The Visalians finish their season Friday, then tackle Hanford in a playoff series.

"Doc" Smith handled six chances without a miss. They had seven, mostly easy ones. If the Oilers clinch the title Friday they'll have a two-week wait before their American division opponent is decided. Covina and San Bernardino have played only one game so far.

Neva's efficiency in this series has revived agitation for a pitching distance still further removed from the plate. The National league may be first to put the hurler back from 37-1/2 feet to 40 next year.

"What's the idea of blocking the plate on Rodgers?" demanded indignant Ed Daley of Catcher Koral.

SALE NOT MADE BUT PAIR HAS FREEDOM YET APPLICATIONS REQUESTED BY COLLEGE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Turner of Long Beach may have to give up their new automobile but not their freedom, and that means much to them today, it was revealed on city police reports.

Along came another payment on the car, admitted Turner to Detective Lieutenant Charles W. Wolford, yesterday, and the Turners were hard pressed for cash. They remembered that a friend, known as Laura, who had lived with them at Long Beach, was on vacation in the east and had placed her $25.00 portable typewriter and other goods in the Turner garage. "We figured if we sold the typewriter, we could make the car payment," Turner declared.

Yesterday, O. C. Potter, 303 North Sycamore, Santa Ana, appeared at police station with the typewriter. "Was just wondering about it," Potter said. "I've been asked to buy it for $30 and when I checked up, I found it's worth $25.00."

Questioned by Officer Wolford, Turner first explained he was selling the typewriter for a friend, reports show. Mrs. Turner's story was different.

"Come, let's get together on the real story," Wolford advised. And they did, the reports show. Turner said he had planned to tell Laura when she returned, that the typewriter had been stolen from the garage.

Upon advice of Officer Wolford, the Turners changed their minds, it is reported, that the typewriter

Applications for admission to Santa Ana Junior college for the coming semester should be filed by all prospective students at once, according to an announcement today from the office of D. K. Hammond, director and dean of the college.

Filing of the applications by all students who expect to attend jaycee is necessary in order that course requirements may be checked before the opening of freshman day activities, which get underway next Tuesday.

Santa Ana students may secure application blanks at the college office, Tenth and Main streets, while those living in other Orange county high school communities may get them at their high school, Hammond explained.

Several hundred new students have already applied for college entrance and numerous others are doing so daily, Hammond continued. It is predicted that the jaycee will have a decided increase in enrollment over that of last year which totals close to 700.

In presenting "Days of the Dons," a musically picturesque program of Early California, Fredrick Stark has called upon a young basso-cantante who, eminently apropos of such a presentation, is a direct descendant of Governor Alvarado who governed California back in 1837. The young singer in question is Simon Russek, and he will share honors with Maestro Stark's Concerters in this 482nd Inglewood Concert to be broadcast by KJH from 8 to 8:30 p. m. today.

First of a new series of feature "pages" to be known as "Man-Made Wonders of the World," taking listeners on a radio visit to the famed 200-inch Mt. Palomar Telescope, will make its debut on the current issue of "Mobil Magazine" to be broadcast by KJH and other stations of the Columbia-Don Lee Broadcasting System from 9 to 9:30 p. m. today.

Music frequently selected for concert performances marks the program to be played by an orchestra led by Misha Piastro today at 8:15 p. m., during the Standard Symphony Hour.

Robert Turner, young American concert pianist, will be guest soloist with Meredith Willson's orchestra during a coast-to-coast broadcast from San Francisco over the NBC-Blue network between 5:30 and 6 p. m. today.

"Y" TO STAGE FOUNDERS DAY ON OCTOBER 11

More than one million members in all sections of the United States and Canada are planning to honor the founder of the Young Men's Christian Association on October 11, the 115th anniversary of his birthday.

The Y. M. C. A. had its start in London in 1844, when George Williams, a young clerk in a drygoods store, gathered a group of his fellow workers and instituted a program of service for men which has grown until it embraces all parts of the world, with branches in most of the nations. "Founders Day" will be observed wherever the Y. M. C. A. has a branch, honoring not only the founder himself, but other men who, through the years, have been responsible for the progress of the movement.

Locally, the observance will be somewhat restricted, it was pointed out by R. Carson Smith, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., because of the fact that the Community Chest campaign, in which the Y is vitally interested, will absorb major attention at about that time. However, plans will be made to bring the anniversary prominently before the members and the public in such ways as will not conflict with the Chest effort.

The boys and young men who are preparing for leadership in the coming years will have a large part in the program both locally and nationally. As "founders of the future" they will be featured in various ways. Under the leadership of H. G. Nelson, chairman of the boys' work committee, plans are to be developed for the special boys' events.

With the organization nearing its century mark in service and with the world in its present need for guidance and help in building a better society, October 11 will be made a great day for youth, according to present plans, which include nation-wide radio broadcasts as well as newspaper publicity and local observances.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2.—Settling in around (20th Century-Fox): As if 120 acres were not enough for a studio, this company purchased an adjoining 46-acre golf course. Stars who were in the habit of playing during lunch hour and recesses are in doldrums.

Never before such tension as exists on the "Ladies in Love" set. That is because Constance Bennett, Janet Gaynor, Simone Simon, and Loretta Young combine more temperament than a quartet of army mules. I shudder to think of their past explosions. A set worker drew me aside to whisper, "Working here is like piling with a pack of wild cats. I'm always ready to duck!" But as yet, nothing has marred the serenity of production. This may be because the four flighty ladies have put themselves on good behavior, or else each thinks that by being sweet she will be given a better break in the picture. Then, too, there is the thought that two of them are tottering on the rim of movie oblivion, one is barely holding her own, the fourth is a newcomer. Perhaps each fears that a new outburst of temperament might bomb her right out of pictures.

My mind flickers back to 1932 when La Bennett was all the rage. THE STAR of Hollywood. Reporters in search of interviews had to approach her on bended knees. Now she needs and invites interviews, but the writers are having their day; they are ignoring Connie and devoting themselves to Simone.

Between stages, I ran across this amusing daily call sheet: "Wednesday. In case of fair weather, company report to studio tank for rain sequence. In case of rain, report to stage 10 for sunny exteriors." Just a studio sneer at the Weather Man.

Football season is here; "Pigskin Parade" is one of the annual cycle of gridiron movies. Youth runs rampant on the sets; Arline Judge, Dixie Dunbar, Johnny Downs, Betty Grable, 300 college students (Jack Temple, Shirley's brother, among them), a glee club and college band all combined to make this the noisiest set in ages.

Dixie Dunbar showed me her new bangs. She dislikes bangs, but Darryl Zanuck, company mogul, ordered them, so Dixie wears bangs. She lunches daily with Johnny Downs, but Eleanor Whitney is his heart.

Maybe his taste runs to tap dancers.

The set, by the way, represented a dance floor at Texas State University, but don't go looking for the college, for it does not exist. Studios concoct fictitious college names, thus to avoid kicks of long-haired alumni or professors who might object to boisterous sequences.

On the "Fifteen Maiden Lane" set (starring Claire Trevor and Cesar Romero) I met a girl who is now a full-fledged actress. So amusing is the way she won this chance I must tell you the story. Her name is Pat Patrick. She has been an extra for years. Lynn Bari had been assigned a role in "Fifteen Maiden Lane," but at the last moment was recalled to another studio for retakes. Her wardrobe had all been made, and the studio did not want to go to the expense of outfitting a new girl (for Class B. pictures, economy is the by-word), so the director was ordered to find a girl to fit the gowns. Pat Patrick fitted them perfectly, so she is now a full-fledged actress.

Douglas Frawley, also in this cast, has arranged a financial budget so that he may retire ten years hence (he will then be 35). "Last week," he told me, "I spent $3,000, not including rent and laundry. This week I'll hold it to $750." I suggested he should live in a wet climate. He could stand out in the rain, and save laundry bills.

COUNTY FORUM EVENT OPENED AT BEACH CITY

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, Sept. 3.—Cooperation, the coordination of the world's supplies and energies, is the thing that is necessary at the present time in order that the people of America, and the rest of the world, may have the economic security that they crave, it was stated by Prof. Graham A. Laing, teacher of economics and business administration in the California Institute of Technology, in a talk that he gave last night in the little theater of the Newport Harbor Union high school on the topic "Is Economic Security Possible?"

There was a time a hundred years ago and more when each man or family was a little factory and farm unit itself, he pointed out, when muscle and wind power were about all of the powers used to produce the things that the family required. But the fact that invention and discovery has changed the control of power within the past few decades so that one man can manufacture as much goods or supplies as, in many cases, it took several hundred men to do the same job, people's ideas of their needs and activities have changed radically.

The people's wants have caused such a demand for various things that at present many nations are visited to secure the things that are necessary for the manufacture of the articles required, and now the whole world is knitted together in order that we may have the things we crave, he said.

Theory Outlined
The theory of "letting things take their way," or as it is sometimes spoken of as, rugged individualism, has proven that eventually the power and supplies have fallen into the hands of a few and many of the necessities of life have been monopolized to the detriment of the masses, he claimed. Under such a system there is no economic security, the speaker said, and until we drop much of our selfishness and begin to really cooperate there will be an unsatisfactory economic security.

Dr. Laing is the first of a series of speakers that will speak at the high school each Wednesday evening for the next several weeks under the auspices of the Orange County Public Forum. Homer C. Chaney, well known Orange county business man and student and lecturer on economics, will be the speaker at next week's meeting. He will speak on the subject, "Consumer's Cooperation". The meetings begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Joseph A. Beck presided at the meeting last night. Mrs. Muel White, editor of the Forum News, a small publication put out each month in the interests of the cause, acted as announcer at the meeting.

Because we draw on not just one year's tobacco crop but crops of several different years to make sure that Chesterfield's quality never varies.

Every Chesterfield tastes just like every other Chesterfield—mild, not strong; always with a pleasing taste and aroma.

Chesterfields win because they're always the same...

Community Players Ready For Season's Program

"HAY FEVER" IS SELECTED FOR OPENING PLAY

With Noel Coward's scintillating and sophisticated comedy drama, "Hay Fever" as choice for the opening play, and the dates of October 16 and 17 selected, Santa Ana Community Players' association is ready to launch its entertainment program for the season. "Hay Fever" will be followed by the powerful courtroom drama, "Judgment Day," and by Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," with the season's climax in the annual Southern tournament of One Act Plays in late April.

Selection of the list of plays was made by the play reading committee appointed by Harry L. Hanson, association president. Mrs. Robert L. Horn is chairman of the committee composed of Mrs. Harvey Smith (Mona Summers Smith), Mrs. John Swarthout and the director, Gladys Simpson Shafer. Choice of "Hay Fever" as the opening play, was dictated by the belief that a sparkling comedy would meet with general approval. It will be the first time that the association has ever presented a play by Noel Coward, perhaps the leading dramatist of the day.

Work on the production will be started immediately since such early dates were chosen. First tryouts for roles will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in Bungalow A of the Junior college group. This building is the music bungalow and is located at 1012 North Main street, directly back of the board of education building.

New Problem
The association is faced with a new problem this year, that of securing a central meeting place not only for tryouts and rehearsals, but for the monthly informal programs, heretofore held in The Barn on Mabury street. Passing of The Barn is matter of regret to all members who have assembled there for the past ten years. It has been the scene of some unusually fine programs, including the annual Christmas parties with their many gifts that later gladdened the hearts of children in needy homes. It saw some of the social affairs of the earlier One-Act Play tournaments, and it has taken prominent place in annuals of the Players ever since it was dedicated to their use by Fred Taylor, formerly of this city.

Santa Ana Community Players' association has been an integral part of the community's cultural life ever since it came into existence. It was just 17 years ago that Ernest Crozier Phillips, first director of the Players, the late Charles A. Riggs, and Mr. and Mrs. Burr Shafer first introduced the idea that developed into formal organization of this little theater group. A few years later the organization was officially incorporated, and today it is the second oldest community players' group in continuous existence in Southern California, and is recognized as one of the leading ones in the United States.

Home To Be Built Here By Musicks

When Deputy Sheriff James Musick returns from his season of football with the Boston Redskins, he and his family will move into a brand new home at 1606 Louie street, Santa Ana, it was revealed today as Contractor J. W. Hess began construction of the building, to cost $4000.

The construction will include family garage. The home will be of six rooms, frame and stucco, 47x37 feet in dimensions. Permit for the construction was granted by Building Inspector Sam Preble. Preble also granted permit to C. S. Burrow, to construct a $5000 home, with garage, at 926 Louise. It will be of six rooms, frame and stucco, 25x34 feet in dimensions.

The Musick place, it was expected, would be completed by the time Musick returns from the east where he is playing professional football during a leave of absence from the sheriff's office.

MASS MEETING ON GAS RATE CALLED

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 3.—A mass meeting for discussion of the Southern Counties Gas company's surcharge here will be held at the Laguna Beach High school September 11 at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today by C. R. Pettit, chairman of publicity of the Consumer's committee, which is sponsoring the meeting.

Tournament of One Act Plays originated in the mind of the late Mrs. William Cummings, and was launched 16 years ago, to become one of the biggest entertainment features in the Southland, carrying the fame of Santa Ana to every community. Four years ago the association introduced its annual contest for original one-act plays, which met with warm interest throughout the country.

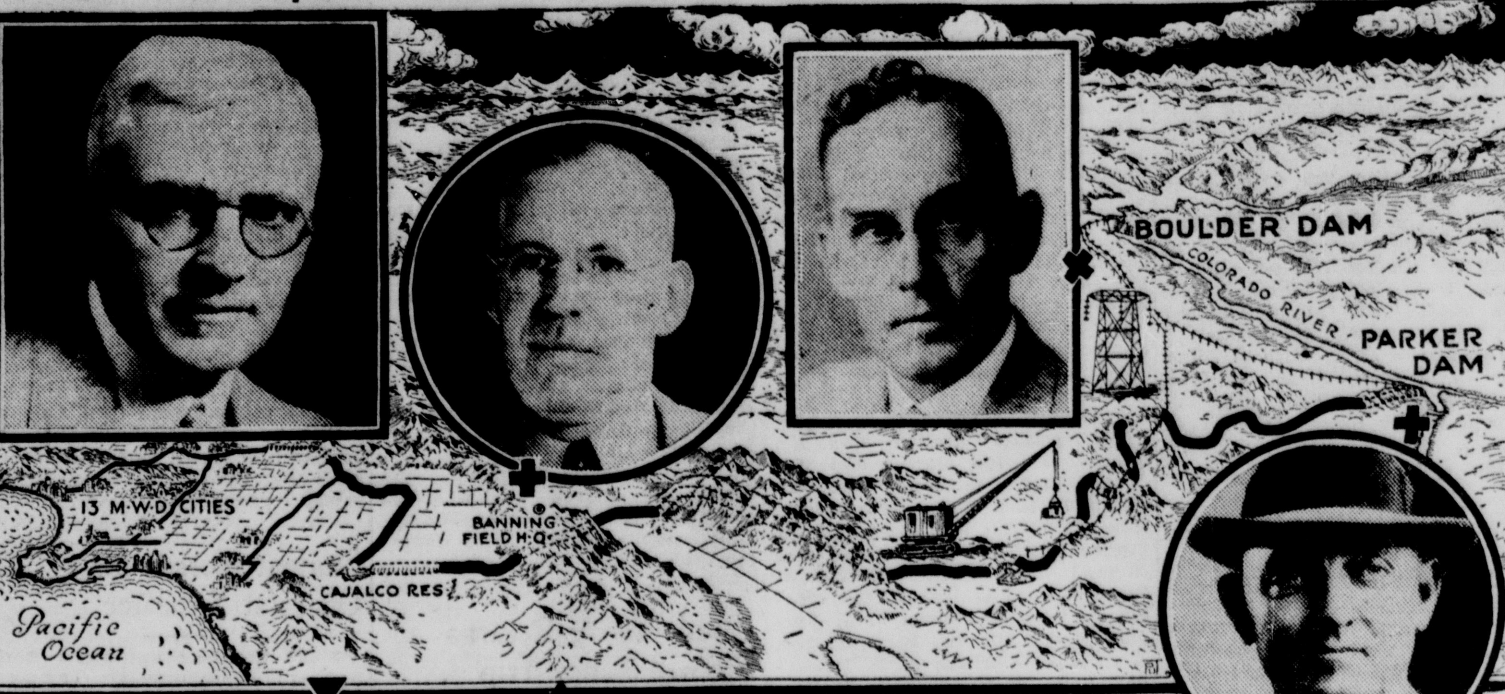

Membership in the association is open to anyone interested in any phase of the drama. This may be stage technique, properties, make-up, costumes, scenery—any one of a dozen important activities other than acting. But the association is always on the lookout for new dramatic talent, and it is hoped to develop much new material this year.

Last year's successful season called many new faces and personalities to the fore, and it is hoped to duplicate this record.

Tomorrow night's tryouts are open to everyone interested in taking part. "Hay Fever" has a comparatively small cast of nine players, five women and four men. Probably these roles will not all be filled at the opening tryout, but others will be held in the near future.

The association is functioning this year under a governing board composed of Harry L. Hanson, president; Mrs. Marshall Harnois, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Messrs. Homer Chaney, Burr Shafer, Arthur Collins, Leslie Steffenson, John Collins, William H. Spurgeon Jr., Northrup Ellis and Sam Hurwitz.

Aqueduct Builders Span. State How Metropolitan Water District Speeds Work Is Revealed

With an army of 8,000 men pressing steadily forward with the building of the Metropolitan Water District Aqueduct, progress reports in the office of General Manager F. E. Weymouth show that this giant water supply system is now almost half completed.

Construction work on every section of the aqueduct project is under way. This includes: (1) the building of Parker Dam, behind which the aqueduct will have its intake; (2) the erection of a 237-mile transmission line to carry power from Boulder Dam to operate the five pumping stations on the aqueduct where water will be lifted over mountain barriers; (3) construction of all features of the main aqueduct line from the intake to Cajalco reservoir, a distance of 242 miles; (4) the building of the great earthfill dam and dike that will form Cajalco reservoir, terminal storage basin of the main aqueduct; (5) construction of the 150 miles of tunnels and conduits on the initial aqueduct distributing system to each of the thirteen cities in the Metropolitan Water District.

Surfaced highways and feeder roads, totaling more than 200 miles, and 1300 miles of telephone circuits connect all of this work with General Manager F. E. Weymouth at the District's head offices in Los Angeles. At the District's field headquarters in Banning, Assistant General Manager J. L. Burkholder "rides herd" on all operations on the aqueduct main line. Work on the aqueduct transmission lines and pumping plants is directed by J. M. Gaylord, Chief Electrical Engineer. Parker Dam is being built by the United States Bureau of Reclamation and is being paid for by the Metropolitan Water District. In charge of construction for the firm which has the building contract is Frank Crowe, who also was general superintendent on construction of Boulder Dam. Now in its fourth year of building, the Metropolitan Aqueduct is ranked as the greatest water supply system ever constructed. It will cost approximately $220,000,000 and will bring to the cities in the Water District a billion gallons of water a day. The cities now in the District are Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Compton, Fullerton, Glendale, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Marino, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, and Torrance. Other areas also have revealed a need for water.

Flying Around With Dale Deckert

Congratulations to Mrs. Theodore Hummel of Laguna Beach, who successfully made her "solo" flight last week, and earned the coveted wings which are awarded to solo students. She made a beautiful three-point landing, and after the flight was over it was hard to tell whether she or Pilot Joe Hager, her instructor from the Floyd Wright School of Flying, was the most excited. Mrs. Hummel is the second woman student to "solo" in recent weeks. The other woman to solo was Geraldine Williamson of Santa Ana.

Chet Gridley of Santa Ana, also a student of Joe Hager's, made his "solo" flight Monday, and really made a field day out of it by doing something that as far as I know has never been done before by a solo student. He not only "soloed" one ship, but three ships, of different design and flying characteristics. Congratulations to Chet, and to Joe Hager for his splendid job of instruction.

Local pilots are making preparations to take in the National Air Races this coming week end, and although Santa Ana has no entrants in the flying events, three local parachute jumpers will jump each day. Troy Colboch, the world champion; Dick Hall and Jimmy Washburn are all entered. From all indications, the races this year will be chock full of thrills. The Army and Navy and Marine corps will perform every day, in addition to other events. In answer to the oft-asked question "which is the best day?" we might say that there is really little difference in the days. The dates are September 4-5-6-7th, inclusive.

Robert Gier of Santa Ana won first place last Sunday at the Eddie Martin airport in a spot landing contest which was sponsored by Floyd Wright. The contest was open to all students of the Wright School of Flying including those who have not "soloed." The contest will be repeated on September 13. A close contest is expected as there will be plenty of time for the students to practice.

KATHLEEN COVERN WEDDING IS TOLD

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 3.—The many friends of Miss Kathleen Covern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Covern, pioneer residents of Laguna, were surprised and pleased to head of her marriage on last February 23 to Herbert Lee Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Caldwell of Magnolia street.

The couple had announced their engagement last spring and their friends had been anticipating the wedding to take place this fall or winter and the announcement of the marriage this week came as a delightful surprise.

Mrs. Caldwell has resided in Laguna with her parents for 15 years and attended the Laguna Beach grammar school and Tus-tin high school. She was later a student at Santa Ana Junior college and Whittier college where she was prominent in scholastic activities.

Mr. Caldwell, owner of the Caldwell Radio service at 222 Forest avenue, attended school in Turkey and later came to the United States to attend high school in Ontario, California, and Santa Ana Junior college.

The couple will live at 237 Viejo street.

Force Here Is Smaller Than Others

In proportion to population, Santa Ana's police force is smaller than that of the 11 cities of the state in its population group. (25,000 to 50,000) according to a report just issued by the department of justice.

With an average of 30 employees in its police department for the year 1935, Santa Ana had a force equivalent to 3 policemen for each 1000 inhabitants, the justice department's report shows.

Cities of the state in the same population group which had relatively larger police departments than Santa Ana were: Alameda, Alhambra, Bakersfield, Huntington Park, Riverside, Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, and Stockton.

Cities in the state having relatively smaller police departments than Santa Ana were listed as: Inglewood and San Bernardino.

The average for the 186 cities of the population group is 12 policemen per thousand inhabitants, the report shows. According to the justice department, "cities having the larger number of police employees in comparison with the population area policed generally have the lower crime rate."

FOUR SPEEDERS ARE FINED BY JUDGE LANDELL

Four speeders were fined yesterday by Acting City Judge John Landell in city court here. They were Herbert Howell, 122 Twenty-Sixth street, Newport Beach, $8; Russell Roquet, 131 West Broadway, Anaheim, $8; Clarence Alshire, Pasadena, $10, and Sam Oaxart, 1535 Ocean boulevard, Balboa.

Frank Martinez, 46 Pomona, was to be a guest of Orange county for 71-2 days following his plea of guilty before Judge Landell on a drunk charge. He went to jail. Martinez was arrested after city police took him to Orange county hospital Tuesday evening for treatment of wounds received when he fell to the ground and struck his head.

Thomas A. Crane paid $1 for operating a car without driver's license. Al Hatch and M. D. Sampson paid $1 each for illegal parking.

Conduct Funeral Of Fred Shipley

BARBER CITY, Sept. 3.—Funeral services for Fred Shipley, for 12 years a resident of Barber City, were conducted Tuesday afternoon from the Brown and Wagner chapel in Santa Ana, with the Rev. John Burman, of Westminster, in charge. Orion Behrmer presented as solo numbers, "Pearly White City" and "The City Four Square" with Mrs. Marie Hare accompanying. Interment followed in Westminster Memorial Park cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hattie Josephine Shipley, and one daughter, Miss Betty Jo Shipley, of the home, and one step-daughter and two step-sons, Mrs. Leona Seay and Otis and Lee Kesler, of Long Beach.

Reflections Copyrighted 1936 By HAROLD R. BROWN

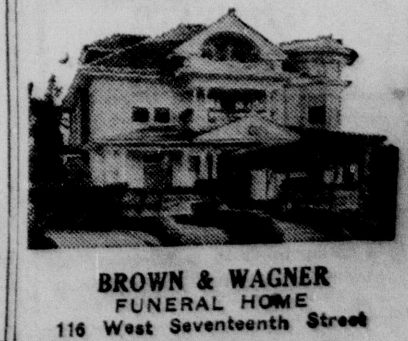

A Day for Organized Labor September 7th

Organization has been the ladder up which "Labor" has climbed to a position of partial stability. It has been the slow climb up the rungs of this ladder which has given helpless children the advantages of comfortable homes, nourishing food and warm clothes. It has been this climb out of the morass of serfdom which has given to the wives of labor their labor-saving devices, a second automobile, a silk dress, the money to visit a beauty parlor and to enjoy the cultural advantages of a Woman's Club.

Organized labor has given impetus to the sales of every conceivable appliance. The insurance, mortgage and finance companies would be destitute of customers without the regular salaries of organized labor, our retail stores, all outlets for the disposal of merchandise are prosperous because of organized labor's ability to have a few dollars left over after its actual living expenses are paid.

We appreciate the advance of Labor and glory in it; we are fully cognizant of your early trials, discouragements and obstacles which you have surmounted. We know that today you are celebrating not a victory but an advance; you are marching not in columns of military triumph but on a pilgrimage of tolerance; to plan and work toward a better understanding between employer and employee.

When the hands blow a lively march and the flag of Freedom is at your column's head, may it lead you to another rung up that ladder of peace and harmony.

Dinner Party Occurs
In Home of
Bridegroom's Mother

Quietly wedded Saturday evening, August 28, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scheel, who are in Santa Ana Monday evening for a dinner party and reception at which they were complimented in the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Mary Scheel, 1838 Spurgeon street.

The newly-married couple since have left on a honeymoon trip to San Francisco and other northern points, expecting to return early next week to establish their home in Fullerton.

Miss Thelma Kilmer, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Kilmer of Taft, became the bride of Mr. Scheel at an evening wedding. The bride wore a changeable taffeta formal gown with a corsage bouquet of red roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Jean Dohring of Taft, wore a blue shirking formal frock with a corsage cluster of white roses.

An intimate group of friends witnessed the ceremony, after which the bridal party dined and danced at the Miramar hotel in Santa Monica.

The new Mrs. Scheel, a graduate of Taft Union High school, attended Taft Junior college. Mr. Scheel, who is employed in Fullerton, attended the local junior college following graduation from Polytechnic high school with the class of 1935.

Dinner Party
Flowers and ferns decked Mrs. Mary Scheel's home for the party Monday night. An elaborately decorated wedding cake centered the table where chicken dinner was served.

Guests at the affair were Miss Mary Beasley, Miss Marjorie Lauderbach, Miss Betty Scheel, Fred Beasley, William Beasley, Palmer Stoddard, Mrs. Alice Scheel, of this city; Mrs. Annie Block and Clarence Block, Fullerton; Miss June Sheridan, Buena Park; Walter Blair, Corona; Paul Diefenbacher, Mrs. C. Dohring and Jean Dohring. Taft, the bride's couple, Mr. and Mrs. Scheel, and the hostess, Mrs. Mary Scheel.

Party Guests Shower
Miss Pauline Wells
With Gifts

Returning home Tuesday night from Los Angeles, where she had spent the past few days, Miss Pauline Wells brought with her a lovely assortment of shower gifts which she had received Saturday afternoon at a charmingly appointed luncheon.

Miss Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wells, 2020 Victoria Drive, soon will become the bride of Douglas Perry of Los Angeles. It was Mr. Perry's mother and sister, Mrs. F. C. Perry and Miss Frances Perry who gave Saturday's party, entertaining at their Los Angeles home.

Luncheon was served buffet style in the patio of the home. Presiding at the attractively arranged table was Mrs. Howard Wayne of Hollywood, who assisted the hostesses by serving coffee.

Since the party was in the nature of an intimate apparel shower for the honoree, guests took this opportunity to present Miss Wells with gifts ideally suited to a bride's trousseau.

In the group were Miss Wells, her mother, Mrs. Wells and the Misses Viola Tummond and Mildred Tummond, Santa Ana; the Misses Elizabeth Sinclair, Dorothy Whitney, Irma Carpenter, Mary Ethel Goddard, Clea Black and Mrs. Howard Wayne, Hollywood; Mrs. Robert Smith, Anaheim; with the hostesses, Mrs. Perry and Miss Perry.

Witness Tribal Rites
Among interested spectators at the 15th annual inter-tribal Indian ceremony held late in August in Gallup, N. M., were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, 401 West Eighth street, who returned home Tuesday night after an eleven-day trip to New Mexico and Arizona.

August 26, 27 and 28 were the dates for the ceremony, in which more than 5000 Indians, representing 26 different tribes, took part. Sixty-seven covered wagons of the parade were entered in the parade which carried a feature of the program each of the three days. An exhibit of rugs, pottery articles and jewelry, representing the best work of each artist, had been arranged for the celebration.

At the close of the ceremonial, Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks made their third trip to Acoma Pueblo, 16 miles off the Santa Fe trail, visiting with Indian friends. The Pueblo is one of the oldest in the southwest, it is said.

The Santa Ana couple visited Montezuma's Castle and other historical places, also going to the Grand Canyon for a short stay. They enjoyed visiting in the unique mining town of Jerome, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks had been vacationing in their summer home at Forest Home for the two weeks preceding their departure for New Mexico.

Gala Surprise
Affair Honors
August Bride

Mrs. Robert D. Moore Jr. (Helen Overton) of Long Beach, who recently joined the ranks of young matrons, had a surprise in store for her when she attended a bridge club party Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Rose Allen, 1404 French street.

In fact, surprise followed surprise until Mrs. Moore realized that she was honoree at the very charmingly arranged party which she had supposed was a regular club event.

Cards were played during the early part of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Kenneth Hill and Mrs. Carl Lacy.

Nicely adapted to entertaining the Allen home, each guest setting for the party. Doors leading into the dining room were opened to reveal a large table whose lovely bridal appointments included the place cards, with tiny nut cups and candelabras in gold and white. Tall tapers lighted the pretty scene. Shrimp and avocado salad was served with open faced sandwiches in appetizing variety.

Mrs. Moore then was presented with an assortment of small gifts provided by her assembled friends. Guests discovered that the large white wedding bell centering the table served a double purpose, concealing scrolls attached to each place ribbon leading to each place. Opened one at a time, the scrolls contained information used in playing the game.

Each guest was required to do a stunt, with Mrs. Moore requested to enact the role of Sherlock Holmes. After an entertaining search, the bride came into possession of an elaborately wrapped silver and blue package which contained a handsome blanket as gift of the party guests.

Sharing the pleasant affair with Miss Allen and her sister, Miss Helen Allen, who acted as hostess, were Mrs. Moore, the honoree, and Mesdames Kenneth Hill, Robert Lufberry, Carl Lacy, Joseph May, Thomas Pangle, Russell Daley; the Misses Margaret Young, Grace Anderson, Edna May Helm, and Mrs. Moore's sister, Miss Katherine Overton.

The Moore-Overton wedding was a quiet event of early August in San Pedro.

Mrs. Elmer Thompson, 717 South Lyon street, first floor buyer for the Rankin Drygoods company, left this afternoon on the Streamliner "City of Los Angeles" for a four weeks' eastern buying trip during which she will visit all the important fashion centers including Chicago and New York city.

The trip is an outgrowth of Mrs. Thompson's successful operation of the duties of her position over a period of several years. She has been instructed to rush her purchases westward at once so that Santa Ana women may have immediate knowledge of eastern trends in modes and the influence of Parisian styles, as established by fall openings of famous Paris houses. Rankin's Drygoods store already has important contacts in the New York market, and while in that city, Mrs. Thompson's headquarters will be the store's New York buying office.

Family Party Returns
From Summer Trip To Alaska
It is "welcome home" week for Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hollis and their son and daughter, Harry and Miss Jane Hollis, who have arrived at their home, 1917 Victoria Drive, after a month's absence in the north.

The family party motored to Seattle in early August, and sailed from that port on August 9 on the Alaska liner "Yukon," for the famous inside voyage to Alaska. Perhaps the most interesting phase of the voyage for all the passengers aboard, was the Columbia glacier. The vessel sailed in as close to the glacier as the captain deemed safe, and the travelers were fascinated by the scene which followed sounding of blasts from the whistle, when great pieces of the glacier would fall from the icy wall into the sea.

The travelers encountered much rainy weather, and after they landed at Ketchikan, had rain every day. An interesting experience was afforded the Santa Anans in Fairbanks, where they were entertained by one of their fellow passengers on the Yukon, whose home in that city. She took them to a place which she owns, and they had the unusual experience of going out on one of the dredgers. Because of the prevailing stormy weather and consequent low ceiling, original plans of Mr. Hollis and his son and daughter, to fly to Wiseman, closest point to the Arctic Circle, had to be abandoned. It was the same period during which Mrs. Wiley Post was detained in Fairbanks when she had planned to fly to Port Barrow to dedicate the monument to her late husband.

Returning to Seattle on the S. S. Alaska, the Hollis family transferred from sea to land and accomplished the remainder of the outing by automobile, devoting four days to the homeward trip. While there were many other Southern Californians on the Alaska trip with them, Mr. and Mrs. Borchard and daughter, Elizabeth, of Anaheim, were the only ones from Orange county.

Baptist Women
Receive Books
For New Year

Another prize-winning year book! Such was the forecast made by members of First Baptist Women's society when they met yesterday in the church and received the new books which outline activities for the year 1936-37.

Bound in hammered-silver paper the books are designed with full-masted ships, with a lighthouse in the background. Art work throughout the booklets furthers the ship motif expressive of the theme chosen for the society's work during the new year. "On the Master's Waterways," members will sail on the "W.S.S. Service," completing their activities in July, 1937, with an annual meeting.

A picture of First Baptist church graces one of the opening pages of the book. Past presidents and other officers are listed, as are able seamen (standing committees). The executive board forms the ship's crew; the honor roll includes members who hold important positions; work of the various departments is outlined, and monthly sailings, include planned programs.

Wednesday's meeting was the first of the fall season, and was opened in the morning with sewing and other White Cross work. Mrs. A. F. Hill had charge of the prayer service which preceded covered dish luncheon served at flower-decked tables. On the committee were Mesdames J. J. Vernon, Harry Harlow, B. C. Hagan, J. A. Newcomer and R. E. McBurney, and the Misses Jean McBurney and Maryanne Newcomer. Miss Elizabeth Robinson, who has spent the past three years at Baptist Missionary training school in Chicago, was speaker. Mrs. Jessie White played piano solos.

Miss Lula Minter, president, conducted the afternoon business session. Mrs. M. M. Holmes, student councilor, announced that a young people's service will be held at the church, September 13. Plans for the eighth annual Southern California Baptist Women's house party September 15 and 16 at Pacific Palisades, Mrs. Vernon announced the week of prayer, consecration and calling for September 20-26, preceding rally day, September 27; Mrs. W. A. Atkinson announced a fall roundup party October 2.

Miss Nellie Crist made application for position of desk sergeant, which, she stated, she understood would be vacant shortly, when Miss Billie Kuffelman would resign. The application was placed on file.

Heads of departments received a "face in the back" when Dr. Riley asked for more complete reports of the work done by each department during the month. Dr. Riley stated that C. C. Bonebrake, street superintendent, recently had completed building a fine street roller and that W. J. Richardson had repaired a concrete mixer for work in the park.

Bandick was authorized to investigate insurance for the city's fleet of automobiles. One bid was submitted from B. D. Stanley. The price quoted was $408.41. The insurance expires September 21.

E. Freier, South Grand street, asked for a fence between his property and the city park which would keep persons visiting the park from stripping his trees of fruit and his vines of grapes.

Councilman Riley and Cal D. Lester were appointed to consult with him. Councilman Lester was appointed to represent the city at a meeting of the State League of Municipalities at Santa Monica, September 13 to 17.

Frank Dale, building inspector, reported $99.90 collected in fees during August. City Judge L. F. Coburn, $355 in fines; Chief of Police George H. Franzen reported 24 arrests, 27 citations and dog taxes collected $14, wheel taxes $880 and business licenses $237.33, making a total of $1139.33.

W. J. Richardson, water superintendent reported 40,543,000 gallons of water used and the water level in the city wells at 220 feet. The water level is next to the lowest in the history of the city, he stated, several years ago it having been 22 1/2 feet. Water in the wells is beginning to rise, as is usual when the flow from underground sources is noted in August, Richardson said.

CITY COUNCIL OLIVE FRENCH DISCUSSES DOG IS MARRIED TO CONTROL LAWS F. E. HARRISON

ORANGE, Sept. 3.—Police dogs inflict 65 per cent of all the bites recorded in Orange county, declared Harold D. Pickering, pound master of Santa Ana and unincorporated districts of Orange county in an informal talk given on dog control and the adoption of a uniform dog ordinance throughout the county, before members of the Orange city council last night.

Pickering, who discussed the dog question from all angles, stated that county residents are being discouraged from acquiring large dogs in the cities and from crossing a police dog with a chow as the dogs resulting from such a crossing practically are wild animals. Police dogs also are responsible for 98 per cent of livestock killed, he stated.

A copy of the Santa Ana dog ordinance was given the council and the measure will be studied as will a model uniform county ordinance which the council asked Pickering to submit to them. The poundmaster pointed out the advantages in dog control which would result from a uniform ordinance with the same tags for all county dogs.

Pickering stressed the affection which exists between a boy and his dog and stated he believed that such relationship should be made as easy as possible for young owners. Santa Ana has 950 licensed dogs, Tustin 50 and outside territories 1000, he said. The greater number of county towns have expressed a willingness to adopt the uniform ordinance requested, Pickering declared.

According to action taken by the council a man will be appointed by Pickering to act as his representative here. The uniform control of dogs was suggested by the county health department.

ORANGE, Sept. 3.—Frederick E. Harrison and Olive H. French were married last evening at Grand Canyon, Arizona, according to an announcement received this morning. Following their honeymoon which will be spent in Bryce Canyon and Zion National park, they will reside in Orange where they have been residents for many years, the bride since 1922 and Mr. Harrison since 1910. They will be at home at 469 North Orange street after October 1.

Accompanying the couple at their sunset wedding on an imposing point overlooking the canyon were the bride's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, who have spent the summer in California with headquarters in Orange during their vacation from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, where Mr. Johnson is a director of the department of speech and dramatic act.

The new Mrs. Harrison also has a son, Tom French, residing in Orange. Mr. Harrison has a daughter, Miss Ethel Harrison, living in Hawaii and three sons, all of whom are married, Verne Harrison living in Holtville, Winfred Harrison in Gridley and Loren Harrison in Los Angeles.

The bride wore an attractive traveling suit of hyacinth blue with accessories of grey, and her daughter as matron of honor, was dressed in a day-time ensemble of rust and British tan.

Mr. Harrison is owner of an orange ranch near Orange and is representative for the Johnson Pump company of Los Angeles. Both he and his bride are well known throughout the county where they have many friends. Mrs. Harrison is active in affairs of the First Presbyterian church and is an artist of recognized ability.

REPORT SHOWS SEWAGE PLANT NOT TO BLAME

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 3.—At last night's regular meeting of the Laguna Beach city council, several matters of importance were disposed of, in addition to the usual monthly grist of routine bills and reports.

In the matter of alleged sewage odors on the beach below Heister Point, an exhaustive report was rendered by Councilmen Howard Heister, Thomas Cummings and C. H. Jester, appointed last week as a committee to investigate conditions complained of by Ted Lucas, manager of an adjacent auto camp. It was the unanimous opinion of the committee that the odors were caused by decaying kelp and sea grass, and that the sewer outfall nearby had no part in the trouble.

Councilman Heister told of having taken samples of the sea water to the U. C. laboratory at Riverside for analysis, return on which is pending; in addition to which, County Health Officer K. H. Sutherland is presently conducting an independent investigation.

Inasmuch as the findings of the investigators and committees, together with health reports, indicate that the sewer system is not to blame, Mayor Walter B. Maloney opined that sufficient publicity should be given to make clear the real facts. Pending arrival of the analysis reports from Riverside, La Jolla and Santa Ana, the matter went over until next meeting.

Bathing Suit Matter
Echoes of the recent bathing suit strife were heard, in a communication from Henry Weeks, prominent citizen and taxpayer, who stated that existing laws against indecency and obscenity were adequate to take care of any allegedly obnoxious conditions. Mr. Weeks, in a letter that ran the gamut from prose to poetry, with excursions into blank verse, cited the Bible (Exodus 28: 42, 43) as authority on "shorts." The communication was ordered acknowledged and filed. No representatives of the organization which protested against existing fashions in swim suits, were present at the meeting.

J. M. Bechtold, taxi-man, filed a written request for an exclusive five-year franchise for a bus line in and through Laguna Beach. In line with action taken at last week's meeting, the application was placed on file.

An offer made by J. M. Estus of Huntington Beach, to demonstrate an individual domestic garbage disposal unit, was accepted viva voce by the council, the members of which together with the city engineer, will view the machine, with special eye to its effect upon sewers.

Life guards Bill Walter and Curtis Burns came in for praise, in a letter received from Anita Baer, of Ontario, who told of a thrilling rescue in which the two life-savers "swam through a school of killer whales" to rescue Miss Baer. The thanks of the council were added to those of the writer, and duly transmitted to Walter and Burns. Some mild doubt was expressed by Councilmen Jester and Cummings as to the reality of the "killer whales," none of which have ventured inshore during the memory of the oldest beachcombers in Laguna. But, the rescue being considered "a good story, anyway," action was taken as stated.

Recreation Project

Joseph H. Frenette, secretary of the recreation committee, informed the council that the recreation body had secured quarters for an all-day 24-hour service nursery for children, the attaches of which plant will be workers assigned under a WPA project. After considerable discussion, during which the necessity for any creche was questioned by both Mayor Malloy and Councilman Heister, a committee, Messrs. Heister and Cummings, was appointed to investigate the necessity, likelihood of demand for, and manner of running the proposed infant nursery, with instructions to confer with the recreation body, reporting back to council at next regular meeting.

Gus Baldwin, in charge of a WPA navigation class at Newport, and also interested in the Sea Scout movement, laid before the council the outline of a project, sponsorship for which he asked the council, in the name of the city of Laguna Beach, to undertake. As gathered from the outline given by Baldwin, and from other sources, the project in question calls for the purchase of a boat by private individuals associated with Baldwin, one of whom, Duane Kipp, of Laguna Beach, has donated $1000 towards the purchase of a suitable craft, to be used in the Sea Scout movement. Sponsorship by Laguna Beach will be followed, Baldwin stated, by allocation of workers and, possibly, additional funds under WPA aegis. The workers, 16 or more in number, will remodel the vessel; upon completion of the rebuilding, the boat will be used for Sea Scout purposes, reverting in three years to Kipp and his associates. In case, before the end of three years, the Sea Scout movement lapses, the boat then automatically reverts to Kipp et al.

Unusual Terms

The somewhat unusual terms of the project were the subject of considerable discussion later in the evening; but, at Baldwin's request and on the advice of City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey, the council, by unanimous vote, adopted the resolution which, ready drafted, Baldwin had brought with him. It was made clear that the city undertook no financial responsibility, other than to act as fiscal agent for any WPA funds which might later be allocated to the project. Lacking official sponsorship by a recognized governmental body, such as the city council, it was stated that federal aid, either in money or in labor, would not be forthcoming.

Action on the bond cancellation, covering the Mattoon bonds now approaching default in the Broadway improvement district, went over until next Tuesday evening at which time action is expected. Tonight's meeting, adjourned until Tuesday, was one of the shortest in many recent months, being over by 10 p. m.

THE LAMPREY FISH EATS ITS PREY FROM THE INSIDE OUT! IT BORES ITS WAY INTO THE INTERIOR OF LARGER FISH AND EATS UNTIL ONLY THEIR SKIN AND BONES REMAIN.

THE lamprey is a most unusual fish. Its mouth is a tube-shaped suction cup, armed around the edge with horn-like teeth. The creature attaches itself to other fish, and rasps away their flesh with the sharp teeth. After a hole is made, it enters the victim's body and continues to feed unloosely.

STRIVING FOR ROOSEVELT ECONOMICS

Most people thought that the government in Spain was very radical.

According to a United Press dispatch, a member of the Madrid government radiocast an appeal to all members of the popular front to "fight to the death so that Spain may become a country of the proletariat with an economy like Roosevelt has applied in the United States."

Evidently, we have advanced farther in state socialism and communism than the Spanish government, if we are their aim.

DROUTH VICTIM

Here is a moving little story of a drouth victim.

He is a large-scale rancher of Alberta, near Pekisko.

He has 160 registered Scotch Shorthorn cattle. They are prize cattle, raised in an effort to improve the breed in Canada.

But the drouth came. Feed was short. It is an old story, well known to farmers and ranchers throughout the Northwest.

No feed, no cattle. They must be sold. So the ranch owner's manager was directed to take the prize cattle to Ontario and sell them.

And who was the rancher, who found himself so short of feed that he had to sell his cattle?

Just King Edward VIII of England.

STILL FLYING FREE

Political confusion and strife in Europe, with probable new governmental alignments emerging, are a reminder that the United States flag today is older than the flags of almost all major European countries.

The United States flag was adopted by Congress in 1777. It is, therefore, older than Britain's Union Jack, older than the French tricolor, or the flags of Germany, Italy, Spain, or Russia.

We like to think of the United States as a young country. So it is. But its democratic government has stood like a rock in a swirling world.

Every time we see our flag, we may well pause to think that, among other things, it stands for one of the oldest permanent and continuing governments in the world.

ORCHID TO HOLLYWOOD

Everybody familiar with the criticism that Hollywood movie productions pander to the salacious and miss no opportunity to drag in a parlor, bedroom, and bath situation.

Those responsible for such criticism usually make knowing reference to the supposedly higher plane on which British and continental films are produced.

Now comes the report of the Australian censors for 1935, revealing that last year they rejected 3.1 per cent of American films for such reasons, while at the same time banning 6.5 per cent of British films.

Hollywood movies have captured the world because, considering the entire production of the industry, they have been infinitely better than those of any other country. The Australian report would seem to indicate that they're cleaner, too.

Amid all the dead cats that have been tossed toward Hollywood by the higher critics, let's include one orchid when it's deserved.

WHY WORRY?

We were somewhat surprised to read an article in the August issue of Harper's Monthly written by Stuart Chase, pointing out the damaging effects of soil erosion.

It seems to us that it is rather inconsistent for Stuart Chase to be worried about soil erosion. He is the ace man who has been preaching the gospel that this is a land of plenty. He wrote a book called, "The Economy of Abundance", in which he points out that there is plenty of everything for everybody. This book is repeatedly quoted as authority by many prominent well meaning people.

If there is plenty of everything why should Stuart Chase be worrying about a little soil being washed down to the rivers? If there is plenty of everything, we need not worry about soil erosion. Either there is not plenty (which, of course, is true) or there is no need of trying to prevent soil from running down hill.

If there is any one thing that we do have abundance of, it is farm products. The prices on these are much lower than other commodities greatly needed by the great mass of people.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

CAUTION
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—It is supposed to have been President Roosevelt's own personal idea that the bombing of the Kane off Spain be handled as lightly as possible. Dangerous foolishness like that is the stuff from which wars are made. The diplomatic council here well knew it. They had far more information apparently than they chose to make public. They could easily have raised an international hullabaloo.

Mr. Roosevelt, on the telephone from his touring drought train, chose to assume it was a case of mistaken identity. Only a few here know what a broad assumption that was.

The evidence at hand indicated it was certainly a case of extreme rashness, and probably also a mistake, but not necessarily one of identity.

VAGUENESS
To give you an idea of the extreme inner care with which the situation was handled:

The navy declined to give out the detailed texts of the original reports it received from the Kane. The explanation for this unusual reticence was that other vessels at sea had picked up these coded messages. If the text were published officially, other nations would have the key to naval codes.

This was true, or course, but immediately after the first reports were received, the navy happily lost contact with the Kane. It could not obtain further details as to how high the plane flew or the type of bomb used or other clues which might have helped to point to the identity of the culprit at the outset, in fact, 48 hours after the incident, the navy pretended it had not received a single additional explanatory word from the destroyer to help clear up the mystery.

The answer to that is the admirals and the diplomats were content to leave the matter as vague as a state as they could.

FORESIGHT
The published reports showed only that the plane was flying low

MUSSOLINI REACHES TOWARD AMERICAS

Word from Rome is that Mussolini is preparing to spend 60,000,000 lire to convert 6,500,000 people to Fascism. They are people of Italian antecedents who live in North and South America.

He plans, according to the Rome dispatch, to buy Italo-American newspapers, send them editors from Rome, dictate their policies as he does those of Italian papers, and send Roman officers to head Italian societies in every large Italian community in America.

Thus he hopes to develop unanimous Fascist sentiment among Americans of Italian descent, and to teach them to "put the fatherland first."

The spectacle of a foreign dictator making such a bare-faced attempt to win the allegiance of millions of Americans, many of whom no doubt are being supported on relief by the American taxpayer, is disheartening.

Mussolini thus dares to take advantage of that American freedom of the press and of expression which he does not grant his own people at home.

Americans will not attempt to deny him that freedom, for we believe in it so strongly we do not fear even its abuse.

But every person who reads such Roman controlled propaganda should remember with every line he reads that if conditions were reversed and Americans were running a number of papers in Italy booming democracy, they would get short shrift from the black-shirted men, who would smash their presses and imprison their editors.

Nothing like that will happen here, because we believe American citizens have the right to say and think what they like. The rights of imported and trained agitators who are not citizens, who have no intention of becoming citizens, or even of remaining and casting their lot with this country, are less well defined.

A country such as the United States, built of immigrants who naturally retain an affectionate interest in "the old country," has always had this problem of foreign influence on domestic problems. The wave of French sympathy which swept the United States in 1793, and of British-French sympathy in 1917, are examples of times when foreign ties of sympathies of Americans profoundly affected our policies.

That is dying slowly. There is every reason, based on the known record of millions of loyal, patriotic, truly Americanized Italo-Americans, to believe that Mussolini's 60,000,000 lire will fall on sterile soil. Americans of Italian descent know too well what America and democracy have done for them.

To have sympathy and love for the fatherland and its people is admirable and splendid. But to work actively for transplanting its momentary political ideas to America, or to divide loyalty, with "fatherland first," is unthinkable.

WELCOME HOME

We are glad to have the American Olympic athletes once more on home soil.

American pride in their achievements is different from that in some countries where it is felt that their teams' achievements added to the glamour and glory of all of their citizens. In America, if you can't run around the block or lift a coal-hod, it really reflects little credit on you that you live in the same country with a man who can run 26 miles or pick up a horse.

It's nice to know that among us live men and women who can go abroad and compete on better than even terms with the best of other countries. Nevertheless, for what our athletes have achieved the primary glory is theirs.

Welcome home, Olympic athletes! Winners and losers, you come home with honor. We are glad and proud to have you among us again!

NEW MILL STREAM

Way back when men wore high stiff collars and high-top shoes, they used to foregather from time to time, we are told, and harmonize an old song: "Down by the O-o-o-old Mill-i-ill Stream!"

Maybe they still do. Anyway, the stream is still there, near Findlay, O. It's real name is Blanchard River, and Tell Taylor, who wrote the old song, still lives near its banks.

But it's a different mill stream now, filled with industrial refuse, mosquito larvae, and organic matter. Local residents are launching a drive to get it cleaned up and restored to something like its former idyllic purity.

Now there's a job for the WPA! No true lover of close harmony and the "minor swipe" could possibly muster up courage to call such a job boondoggling!

Day By Day In Washington

LONG BEACH, Cal., Sept. 2.—

This is the home town of Dr. Francis Townsend of old age pension fame. They boast of other things here besides Townsendism, such as a beach front that is as pretty as anything at Atlantic City or Miami and a climate that is as balmy and bracing irrespective of season.

But it occurred to me there must be a reason why Townsendism flourishes in Southern California, and I sought an explanation. There were people who reminded me that California is the fountain of many original ideas and that the "unatic fringe" of Bull Moose days has its counterpart in California in every-thing from Epile doctrine to Communism.

The most plausible answer given was the statement that California probably has more old people proportionately than any other state would have, that folks come here at advanced age because of the climatic conditions and that, whether they are supported by relatives who would like to have Uncle Sam relieve them of the burden, or by meagre savings, the fact remains that Dr. Townsend hit upon an idea that won converts by the hundreds of thousands.

It naturally spread to other Pacific coast and Rocky mountain states. There is a close kinship between these states. Senator Borah was talking to me about it the other day. He spoke of the many Idaho people who go to California and afterwards keep up a constant correspondence with relatives in Idaho. He seemed to think Idaho, for instance, was somewhat California-conscious. Anyway, there is a sizeable Townsend vote in many of the western states, for in several instances, there have been Townsend candidates in the field in the congressional primaries of both major parties.

What assumption is there for believing that these Townsends, if left to choose between Governor Landon and President Roosevelt, would choose the Republican nominee? The Republican leaders who have been turning this question over in their minds have identified many of the Townsends as former Republicans, to be sure, and the fact that President Roosevelt personally aided the congressional committee that persecuted Dr. Townsend has made a deep impression on many of the Townsend followers.

But, on the whole, the Townsend contingent favors $200 a month by means of federal spending. And, strictly speaking, the New Deal administration, which believes in spending, no matter where the money is coming from to pay it back, has more in common with the Townsends than has Governor Landon.

But the Roosevelt administration, through its cabinet officers and other spokesmen, has ridiculed the Townsend plan. What then are the Townsends to do? They would like to demonstrate their strength. They would like to show both parties that they are growing and that they can command votes.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

MONOPOLY IN THE CAMPAIGN

Both the Democratic and Republican parties have put monopoly out in front as a campaign issue.

Neither party has to date said anything very fundamental on this issue.

What is the essence of monopoly?

It is not the existence somewhere of a small group of business hijackers out to scuttle the economic ship.

Monopoly can be created and administered by governments which profess to be people's governments.

The essence of monopoly is the arbitrary and artificial control of production, distribution, and of prices.

Monopoly is essentially a method of the economics of scarcity.

Monopoly limits production in order to raise prices.

Monopoly tends to dry up popular buying power through higher and higher prices.

Monopoly puts a damper on technical progress by throwing a protecting wall against competition around the protected producers.

Monopoly subsidizes high-cost and inefficient producers.

Monopoly makes for a lower standard of living.

Monopoly does not make for a progressively increasing national income.

And monopoly engineered by government, as under the NRA, cannot work permanently without an excessive centralization of power in the national government.

There is more to the monopoly issue than a few inflammatory speeches about Wall Street.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

THE FIRST TEACHER

The child's first teacher is the most influential in his life. Mother is that teacher. She gives him his first lessons and they stay with him as long as he lives, weighing every thought and action, helping him or hindering him according to the amount of understanding that went into them.

The mother's voice is the first voice a child learns to hear. It will modify his voice and his speech and the manner of them. Her hands are the hands he learns to love or dread, according to their tenderness, their gentleness, their sureness.

As he has been handled in babyhood he will tend to handle other people and things. Mother's code becomes the child's code, and shapes his character. From her the child learns the ways of industry, friendliness, honor, duty. What he learns during the first few years when mother is his only teacher and his closest friend, is what equips him for life.

After he goes to school the first teacher he has is the most important of his school life. If she is well experienced in the care and management of little children, if she has a motherly attitude along with the teacher's viewpoint, she will lay a foundation for the child's education that will stand through the years, an underlying strength that will give the child courage, certainty and hope.

Mothers are mothers and first teachers by the grace of God, but teachers are appointed by school boards. Teachers can be selected, and because they are imposed upon little children, and have such far-reaching influence upon their futures, they ought to be selected with the utmost care. The teacher of the first grade ought to be selected after fasting and prayer, for upon her the greater part of the children's success in school must depend.

To often this is disregarded. The high school teacher is carefully selected and very well paid. Dignity goes with the position of the high school teacher. The primary teacher, especially the teacher of the "baby class," gets a small salary and a tolerant smile. Education in school, under such a condition, is upside down. We create poor scholarship in the beginning and then try to patch it up in high school. It cannot be patched up. Children's minds do not let go what they learn at the start, but hold to it to the end. Half-learned facts, inaccurate use of educational tools like reading, tables, handwork, stay inaccurate and worry the student.

Give the baby class the finest

Something new in circus parades will be seen in Santa Ana Friday when Ringling Brothers circus comes here. The street pageant will be three miles long and will present peoples of a hundred nations and tribes, a large menagerie in open cages and fifty corps of musicians ranging from savage tom-tom players to modern brass bands. Wagons, chariots and floats will be hand-carved; costumes were designed in France, and flags, banners and pennants were woven in Japan.
